SUFFRAGETTE LEADER HERE

Militant Mrs. Pankhurst Arrives from England to Teach Americans Things.

CONSIDERS WE ARE BEHIND THE TIMES

Defends Violent Tactics, Saying Great Movements Have Been Thus Successful; Not Coming West.

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—A quiet little group of New York women bearing banners labeled "Votes for Women," stood on the White Star line pier and welcomed to America Mrs. Emmeline Gould Pankhurst, leader of the militant suffragettes of Great Britain.

In accordance with the rulings of the customs authorities less than twenty persons were admitted to the dock and the reception to the woman who has served two terms of imprisonment for her activity in the cause was devoid of clamor. She was hurried to the suffrage headquarters at 502 Fifth avenue.

Mrs. Pankhurst is slight of stature and has a wealth of brown hair which is just turning gray. She looked a typical Englishwoman and was dressed becomingly in a dress of dark material.

"I am coming to America," she said, "to speak on the subject of equal rights for women and to study the situation in this country. I think we are away ahead of you in this matter."

WAS IN JAIL.

As she talked Mrs. Pankhurst displayed a little medallion she wore and explained that it was a distinguishing mark worn by those English women who have been imprisoned for the cause.

"I suffered solitary confinement," she continued, "and had only one hour of exercise out of 24. During the other 23 I was confined in a little cell, 8 by 10 feet. I had cell No. 47 on the second floor of Holloway prison and I wore the regulation prison garb, but I did not bring this costume to New York with me.

"The movement is progressing satisfactorily in England," she went on. "We have pledges from practically two thirds of the members of Parliament to vote for us as soon as a bill is prepared by the government. And we expect sooner or later to compel the government to introduce the bill. Just when this will come to pass I am not prepared to say."

BETTER CITIZENS

Mrs. Pankhurst stoutly defended militant tactics. "All great movements have been worked out by violence," she said. "The American people secured their liberty by violence, so why not push the House of Commons to obtain what we regard as our rights? The ballot granted to women will make them more intelligent, less self centered and on the whole much better citizens."

"Don't you think that there would be corrupt women politicians and women ward leaders?" Mrs. Pankhurst was asked.

"Well," she replied, "I don't think it could make politics any worse at any rate."

Mrs. Pankhurst said she had been a suffragette as long as she could remember. She had gone to meetings in favor of the emancipation of women when she was only 11 years old, accompanied by her mother, who herself was an ardent advocate of the cause.

Mrs. Pankhurst will remain in the United States until November 22nd, but will not be able to get as far West as Colorado, where woman suffrage prevails. She will speak in Boston Friday, and Worcester, Mass., Saturday, returning to New York Sunday for a reception by the national and New York State associations.

NAVAL FOOTBALLIST WILL SURELY DIE

Hope Has Been Abandoned for Recovery of Midshipman Wilson.

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Oct. 20. Hope of the recovery of Midshipman Earl D. Wilson, quarterback of the navy football team, who was injured in the Villa Nova game last Saturday, was practically abandoned this afternoon.

A statement issued from the naval hospital said:

A statement issued from the naval which were present Dr. Harvey Cushman of Johns Hopkins University and Surgeons Frank Anderson, C. L. Stokes, A. H. McCormack, J. H. Iden, A. L. Woods and G. T. Cattle, all of the navy, it was decided that the benefits of an operation were so improbable and the chance of death so great that an operation is not considered justifiable. Midshipman Wilson's condition is very serious and there is little hope of recovery in any case."

Wilson was injured in stopping a long run of the opposing half back after a score had been made and another touchdown was being worked down the field. Wilson, by a flying tackle through the interfering men who were helping Barr, stopped the play within a few yards of the navy's goal. When the mass of players was untangled, he was found at the bottom of the pile unconscious. Paralysis developed almost immediately, and since Saturday Wilson has been unable to move any part of his body. The fifth vertebrae was fractured.

PEARY "KNOCKED" COOK BACK IN 1908

BRUSSELLS, Oct. 20.—M. Le Coint, director of the Brussells observatory, says that Commander Peary sent in the International Polar Association in May, 1908, an anticipatory detailed opposition against Dr. Cook's supposed enterprise, which, if published, would throw an unexpected light upon the polar controversy.

REPORT OF STRIKE IN UNDEVELOPED OIL TERRITORY OF KERN

BAKERSFIELD, Oct. 20.—A well authenticated report has reached here that the drill in the Honolulu's big gusher, two miles from the Buena Vista lake, has gone into the sand and that the oil is flowing over the casing.

Parties from Bakersfield have left for the scene, there being great interest in the operations, as the well is ten miles from any developed property.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—Using a form of libel as a weapon, Charles C. Glover, president of the Riggs National bank, is charged with having attacked a depositor who called at the bank Monday.

The depositor, Emilio Bassedi, today brought suit for damages against Glover, asking $10,000 for the bodily and mental pain he suffered.

HEAVY SEA FOG DAMPENS PORTOLA

Social Events Continue to Amuse San Francisco Visitors; Parade Today.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 20.—The second night of the Portola celebration in this city proved as joyous as the first, although the crowds on the streets were somewhat smaller, as a heavy sea fog lowered the temperature. The whole city was ablaze with electric lights, however, and thousands of people packed the sidewalks until a late hour tonight.

The event of the evening was the festival ball, held at the Fairmont hotel, which was attended by the officers of the warships in the bay as well as by all society in San Francisco. The great lobby of the hotel was crowded with bright dresses and the glitter and gold lace of dress uniforms. The bodyguard of Don Gaspar de Portola and of Queen Virgilia were present in their old Spanish costumes and added to the general effect.

On the bay the men of the American ships held open house during the evening for the crews of the foreign warships.

Tomorrow the Portola parade, the greatest pageant ever attempted in this city, will occupy the morning hours. It is estimated that the line will be seven miles long.

NICARAGUA TORN BY CONTESTANTS

Zelayan Government Accuses Guatemala of Egging on Estrada Uprising.

PANAMA, Oct. 20.—Nicaraguan residents here have received wireless messages from Bluefields to the effect that the revolution is gaining ground and that many of the people, including exiles and former revolutionists are joining General Estrada's forces.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20. A dispatch has been received at the state department from Corinto, Nicaragua, that the city still is in the control of the Zelaya government and that there has been no fighting there. The dispatch said that every able-bodied native over 16 years of age is under arms. The gunboat Momotombo is at Corinto, but is expected to sail at any time.

Minister Espinsa received a dispatch from his government declaring that it is strong enough to overthrow the revolution.

The question of mail communication between the United States and the eastern parts of Nicaragua, which have been closed by the government, is giving the officials here some concern.

GUATEMALA ACCUSED.

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 20.—Francisco Castro, Nicaraguan minister to Mexico, declares that if it is true, as reports indicate, that other governments in Central America, notably Guatemala, are assisting in the revolution in Nicaragua, the case will be taken at once to the Central American court of arbitration at Cartego, Costa Rica.

Minister Castro intimates that his government is already taking steps in that direction. He declares that all Central American countries are bound by the Washington treaty, of which the international court is the outgrowth, to respect the rights and territory of one another.

GUATEMALA CITY, Oct. 20.—It is said here today that President Zelaya accuses Guatemala of aiding the revolutionists in Nicaragua, but this charge is ridiculed and it is pointed out that the Guatemalan government has always maintained the strictest neutrality in the affairs of other Central American states.

ONE OF SWINDLING GANG

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 20.—Word has been received at the office of the postoffice inspector that Leon Lozier, supposed to be a member of the alleged Mayberg gang of swindlers, was arrested at Battle Mountain, Nev. Lozier was also known as D. H. McLeod, Tom Rogers and No. 21. It is charged that he operated in conjunction with the swindling gang in San Francisco and other Pacific coast cities.

BATTLESHIP RETIRED.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., Oct. 20.—Orders were received here today directing that the battleship Wisconsin be placed out of commission April 1, and her crew transferred to the new Michigan. The Wisconsin will be sent to Philadelphia for a thorough overhauling after which she will be placed in reserve.

ATTACK UPON EXPRESS RATES

San Francisco Shippers Have Their Hearing Before the Commission.

LARGE SHIPMENTS AN IMPOSSIBILITY

Wells-Fargo Attorney Argues That Company Is Not Required to Do Fast Freight Business Cheaply

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 20.—With the taking up of charges made by local shippers against the Wells-Fargo Express Company, the Interstate Commerce Commission entered on a new field of investigation today. The complainants against the express company were the California Commercial Association and M. S. Kohlberg & Company, and the action objected to in each case was the change in rates made by the company in 1908, which the shippers claim made the shipment of goods in lots weighing more than 100 pounds impossible.

It was claimed that inasmuch as the higher rate applied only to San Francisco and not to Portland, it was discrimination in favor of the latter city.

According to the case set forth by the attorneys, the express company fixed the following rates in 1906: 500 to 1000 pound shipments, $12 per hundred weight; 1000 to 2000 pounds, $11; 2000 to 5000, $10; 5000 to 10,000, $9; 10,000 to 20,000, $8, and over 20,000, $7. It was alleged by the attorneys that in 1908 these rates were withdrawn and the former rate of $1.50 on 50 to 500 pounds was restored.

GOOD EARNINGS.

Attorney J. L. Brown argued in behalf of the complainants and read statements that gave the net earnings of the express company in the last nineteen years over Southern Pacific lines into San Francisco at $9,000,000. He said that the present contract between the express company and the Southern Pacific Company has twenty-one years to run, that under the contract the express company pays the railroad 4 per cent of its gross earnings, $450,000 in cash, and 1,500 shares of the capital stock of the express company, valued at the time of the drawing of the contract, at $130 a share. He said that the railroad company holds one-fifth of the capital stock of the express company, or 15,000 shares, and that the stock is paying ten per cent per annum in dividends. Counsel argued that these figures show the profitable nature of the express company's business under present rates.

C. W. Stockton, vice president of the express company, and its general counsel at New York, answered for the corporation. He said that the rate of 1906 had been established to give San Francisco merchants a chance to fill their stocks after the fire without delay.

"The complainant is now trying to force us to abandon the express business and to operate a fast freight service," he said.

Briefs were offered in behalf of both sides and the case was submitted. Commissioner Lane stated that in his mind there was a question as to the commission's right to compel the express company to fix a new rate, and the body adjourned to meet in Reno, Nev.

GAYNOR ENDORSES ENTIRE TICKET

Endorses Tammany Hall and All Its Selections in Spite of Opposition.

NEW YORK, Oct. 20. This was another night of whirlwind speech making in the municipal campaign, but the three candidates brought out nothing new in the way of personal attacks. William R. Hearst, the independent nominee, delivered four speeches in New York; Otto T. Bannard, the Republican nominee, spoke three times in Brooklyn and then appeared at Carnegie Hall, New York, before a big fusion gathering, and William J. Gaynor, the Democratic nominee, appeared in Brooklyn.

Hearst opened with an attack on Gaynor and Tammany, reviewing his efforts in behalf of the people through his newspapers.

Gaynor referred smilingly to his first visit to Tammany Hall last night.

"I have boarded the tiger in his den," he said, "and have faced that dreaded animal without a qualm and I am now convinced nothing on earth can make me afraid."

Gaynor referred to Hearst as a hollowing demagogue who has never yet read the city charter.

Of Senator McCarren's illness he said: "We send our sympathies tonight to one who is not here. Though we have not all of us been able to agree with him at all times, we can remember the good he has done at all events."

Gaynor announced his staunch support of his associates on the Democratic ticket some of whom have been criticised severely, particularly George F. Roesch, Tammany nominee for justice of the city court. The bar association of New York officially denounced Roesch as "not fit for the office", but Gaynor stood by the ticket.

Former Mayor Seth Low, a Republican, was one of the principal speakers at the Carnegie Hall meeting. His mention of Hearst brought cheering.

"I am glad you applaud Mr. Hearst," said Low, "because he is fighting with us in this campaign against Tammany."

RENO, Nev., Oct. 20.—Two million feet of lumber, the property of the California White Pine Lumber Company, was burned at Verdi tonight. The loss is $50,000.

NEW VOLCANO BREAKS OUT IN MEXICO JUST ACROSS BORDER LINE

EL CENTRO, Cal., Oct. 20.—News was received here tonight of the breaking forth of new volcano in the Volcano Lake district, twenty-four miles south of Calexico in Lower California.

Albert Robinson, foreman of a large cattle ranch telephoned from his camp at Black Butte that the volcano became active today, emitting flame and sulphurous fumes from a crater twenty feet in diameter on the shores of Volcano Lake. The point at which the crater suddenly appeared, is not a hundred yards from where a party of Colorado river delta country explorers made camp.

DEFENSE LEAGUE TO SAVE DE LARA

Clarence Darrow of Chicago Has Been Asked to Defend Imprisoned Mexican

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 20.—Tonight the following telegram was sent to Clarence Darrow of Chicago, the noted attorney, who has been identified with cases involving labor leaders of the country, by the newly formed De Lara Defense League of this city:

"Clarence Darrow, Chicago: Can you come to Los Angeles and assist in the defense of De Lara, Mexican patriot, whom hired agents of despot seek to deport and slay as Ferrer was slain?

(Signed) "DE LARA DEFENSE LEAGUE."

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 20.—The organization today of the "De Lara Defense League," to handle the fund now being raised to aid L. Gutelrrez De Lara in his effort to escape deportation to Mexico on the charge of being an alien and an anarchist, is one of the most important of the day's development in the case. A fund to secure the release of De Lara has been pledged and will be placed in the hands of the defense league, of which Shirley Olympius is president and Mrs. Mary Garbutt treasurer. The mass meeting under the auspices of this league, which was planned yesterday, will be held in Simpson auditorium on Saturday night. Previous to that time meetings of several local labor unions will be held, and resolutions presented declaring that unjust methods are being used to deport De Lara. Officials of the Typographical and other local unions seem deeply interested in the case and are taking active steps to aid the prisoners.

At the mass meeting on Saturday night, John Kenneth Turner, companion of De Lara on his trip to Mexico one year ago, and author of magazine articles entitled "Barbarous Mexico," will be one of the principal speakers. He has announced that he will tell on this occasion why, in his belief, the Mexican government may be seeking to have De Lara deported.

Clarence Miely and A. R. Holston, attorneys for De Lara, stated today that their defense, when the hearing is called early next week, will be that De Lara is a Socialist and not an anarchist, and that his utterances have been in behalf of better government and not against any established government. It was stated by the attorneys today that De Lara is preparing to make application for naturalization papers of this government. The prisoner has been permitted to have conferences with his attorneys today and is practically outlining his own defense, being an attorney himself.

Secret Service Operative George W. Hazen stated today that he is not taking any official action in the De Lara case but is watching it carefully.

PETTY OFFICERS ACCEPTED BRIBES

Is Charge Upon Which Arrest of Mojave Men Based. Gamblers Buy Immunity.

BAKERSFIELD, Oct. 20.—Constable John Hedd and Justice of the Peace H. E. Coleman of Mojave were placed under arrest today on a charge of accepting a bribe, and were brought to the county jail here this afternoon. The arrests were the result of a visit of plain clothes men from Los Angeles, who were sent to Mojave by Sheriff Kelly to investigate the reason for the lawless condition existing in that town, where many murders have been committing of late. The detectives professed to be gamblers, and according to the testimony they purchased immunity from the officers. Yesterday they reported to the sheriff and warrants were issued for the arrest of the officials last night.

ORANGES SHIPPED FROM SACRAMENTO

FAIR OAKS, Cal., Oct. 20.—The Fair Oaks colony in Sacramento county, shipped east today the first carload of ripe oranges of the present season. The shipment is nearly two months in advance of the average annual first shipment.

INSPECTION OF MEAT BAD

Federal Officials Charged With Incompetency By Woman at Convention.

PUBLIC MISLED BY DEPARTMENT

American Meat Packers' Association Said to Have Influenced the Rules of Bureau of Animal Industry

RICHMOND, Va., Oct. 20.—Direct charges of incompetency in the federal department of agriculture and of disregard of the rules by the bureau of animal industry in the federal inspection of meat were made by Mrs. Caroline Bartlett Crane of Kalamazoo, Michigan, in an address today before the American Public Health Association in convention here.

Mrs. Crane attacked the department for misleading, as she said, the public into believing that the meat inspected by the federal officials was passed upon justly. She said that the standard of half of the animals slaughtered had decreased since the scandal in meat inspection of 1906.

One of her most startling charges, and one that evoked a spirited denial from Dr. M. Dorset of the bio-chemical department of the bureau of Washington, was that the department of agriculture had caused to be issued, simultaneously with the annual rules and regulations, certain "service announcements" which it was said are intended for inspectors only. The inspectors, she said, were not to show or give these "service announcements" to any other person.

Replying to Dr. Dorset's denial of this, Mrs. Crane offered to show photographs of such pamphlets which she had taken from a booklet she procured overnight.

Mrs. Crane also declared the standards of meat inspection had been influenced by the efforts of the American Meat Packers' Association, which had sent a committee to confer with the bureau of animal industry on the formulation of the regulations. She also attacked the competency of many of the federal inspectors.

BURGLAR WOUNDS THREE IN FIGHT

RENO, Nev., Oct. 20.—An unknown burglar, tonight, surprised in the Vinton Hotel, at Vinton, thirty-five miles northwest of Reno, shot two men and stabbed a third. He then escaped. A posse is in pursuit.

R. M. Canonica, son of the proprietor, heard the intruder upstairs, and when he went up to investigate he was forced to retire at the point of a gun. He returned with his father, the bartender and a blacksmith, and a desperate battle took place on the stairs. Robert Canonica fell seriously wounded with a bullet in the abdomen, and the bartender was seriously wounded.

Jose Canonica, the father, remained and grappled with the burglar, who bit him on the arm and after stabbing him on the right arm, succeeded in escaping.

ROOSEVELT SKINS WELL PRESERVED

Smithsonian Scientists Find Some Magnificent Specimens Among Trophies.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—Every one of the skins in the collection of Roosevelt trophies received here from Africa has been found to be in good condition by the taxidermists of the Smithsonian Institution. The first lot that arrived here two months ago was in an excellent state of preservation, and the second consignment that came last week is proving to have been just as properly pickled.

Some of the trophies are declared to be among the most magnificent specimens that have come into the possession of the institution.

With some of the skins came a complete set of bones, upon which they will be mounted. In that way the mount will be extremely correct, as the skeleton is an aid to the taxidermists in making the animal life-like, both in respect to size and form.

GENERAL E. S. OTIS DIES IN NEW YORK

Was Military Commander of the Philippines and a Member of Insular Commission.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Oct. 20.—General Elwell S. Otis, U. S. A., retired, died at 12:20 this morning at his home in the town of Gates, just outside of this city. He had been ill two weeks, but it was not realized until yesterday that death was near. Heart trouble with complications, chief of which was an affection of the kidneys, was the cause of his death.

General Otis' wife, daughters, brother and sister were with him at the end. The house in which he died has been his own for many years. General Otis was in command of the army in the Philippines at the outbreak of the insurrection under Aguinaldo. He succeeded General Merritt as military governor of the islands, serving in that post until May 5, 1900. He was a member of the Philippine commission in 1899.

FEARS ANNOYANCE FROM NEW YORK CUSTOMS SERVICE

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—News of the activity of customs officers at this port apparently has been received by Americans abroad in more or less distorted form judging by a letter received by Mayor McClellan today from a woman in Paris and turned over to Collector Loeb. The letter says:

"I am in receipt of letters telling of pinching, poking and being personally felt of. If any one attempts to insult me in that way I intend to the best of my ability to knock him down, and I ask for police protection in so doing.

"There is no other land on this globe in which a decent woman is not perfectly safe. I have been in nearly every country on the globe, and have met with consideration and kindness. I make two exceptions—Turkey and Central America were not safe for white women unescorted—but one could hire protection in both these countries, and the new Turks and the English government have made these countries safe and comfortable for women. It is only in coming home that I was afraid, and I ask again for police protection."

The letter is signed "A Woman Artist in Paris."

FRENCH TARIFF WAR POSSIBLE

President Taft May Find It Necessary to Exclude Certain Goods Entirely.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—Drastic measures, including the exclusion of importations from any country unjustly discriminating against this country, may be found necessary by the president should the United States adopt retaliatory measures against France.

While so far this government has received no official information of the intention of France to operate a maximum tariff against this country upon the termination on October 31st of the commercial agreement, officials here are willing to admit that there is some danger of the two countries applying their maximum rates against each other.

The exclusion power is furnished in section five of the tariff act of August 20th, 1890. This section empowers the president, in case American goods are unjustly discriminated against by any country, absolutely to prohibit the importation into the United States from that country of any article he may see fit to name.

MRS. BATONYI IS GIVEN DIVORCE

Verdict of Jury Finds That Horseman Was Unfaithful to Daughter of Millionaire

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—Mrs. Francis Work Burke-Roche-Batonyi was granted an absolute decree today from Aurel Batonyi, the Austrian horseman.

The verdict of the jury will have to be confirmed by the judge before a decree will be granted.

The verdict follows upon two years of charge and counter-charge between the daughter of Frank Work, the New York millionaire, and Batonyi, who has been associated with wealthy horse fanciers since he came to this country in 1899.

Mrs. Batonyi sued for divorce on statutory grounds, first alleging at least ten instances of unfaithfulness. At the trial, however she withdrew all but two charges, therein involving her husband with two New York women.

Long night rides in a taxicab with one woman and a night spent in the apartment of another were the allegations behind the charges.

It was during a coaching trip, on the box of the public coach "Good Times," that Batonyi met Mrs. Burke-Roche, then divorced from her first husband, an English public man of some note. A brief courtship ended in August, 1905, in their marriage.

A year later the news was broken to Frank Work. The aged millionaire flew in a passion, and, Batonyi alleges, threatened that unless his daughter began steps to free herself from the union, that he would disinherit her.

Soon afterward an action for divorce was begun by Mrs. Batonyi. The husband retaliated by bringing a countersuit in which he named eleven co-respondents. He also sued his wife's father, her sister and her brother-in-law, her cousin, and Mr. Work's confidential secretary, claiming damages aggregating $1,500,000 for the alienations of his wife's affections.

These actions are pending.

KILLS HIS WIFE AND THEN HIMSELF

SAN DIEGO, Oct. 20. Henry Belton, a blacksmith, shot and killed his wife this afternoon, and immediately afterward committed suicide. The couple had not lived happily together of late and Mrs. Belton had left her husband and obtained employment as a domestic. This afternoon he visited her and suggested that they take a walk as he wanted to show her some real estate. She accompanied him to the city park. When near Switzer's canyon, Belton suddenly drew a pistol and shot the woman at close range through the head. She tumbled back into a gully and as she fell Belton fired again at her. Immediately afterward he shot himself.

The shooting was seen by several children who summoned aid. The woman, however, was dead, and Belton died shortly after being taken to a hospital. He and his wife were about 40 years of age. They leave two children. The cause of the trouble between the couple is not definitely known, but it is thought to have been in part Belton's drinking habits.

RUSSIA MAY FIGHT THE FINNS

Regiments Await Orders to March Into Duchy to Compel Payment of Taxes.

OFFICERS REGRET WINTER FESTIVITIES

Boundary of Czar's Dependency Have Been Moved to Facilitate the Absorption of Territory Into Russia.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 20.—The threatening situation in Finland has spread dismay in St. Petersburg society because of the prospect that the officers of the crack regiments of the guard will be called upon to pass the winter in the bleak barracks of the Cantonments of Finland. This will prevent them from participating in the galeties attending the return of the court to this city. No orders have been issued for the dispatch of troops to Finland beyond those already on the way to the grand duchy, but word has passed to the officers of seven elite regiments to hold themselves ready for a winter campaign.

It is rumored that some of the regiments may leave here next week and will be distributed by detachments in the various towns.

A prominent Finnish official said today that open resistance to Russia's demand for an annual military contribution by Finland was entirely out of the question. He believes there would simply be a passive refusal to appropriate money for the national defense and that little headway would be made in the collection of the amount until that work was placed in the hands of the Russians. The official considered the annexation of the eastern portion of Viborg province settled and said that this would lead to the general emigration of French residents to the new frontier.

DID THIS WOMAN WIELD THE RAZOR?

Police Now Think Attack Upon Mrs George Staehle Was Inspired By Jealousy.

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 20.—Detectives of this city tonight are working on the theory that the attempted assassination of Mrs. George Staehle on last night, when her throat was slashed with a razor while she lay asleep in bed in her home on Gladys street, was the work of a woman.

Mrs. Laura A. Sims, neighbor of Mrs. Staehle, who was taken into custody today, was closely examined at the city jail today by detectives concerning her knowledge of the attempt to murder Mrs. Staehle.

Although she is held on suspicion of having been implicated in the crime, Mrs. Sims made no admission to the officers that would tend to incriminate her.

The police believe that the attempt on Mrs. Staehle's life was made because of jealousy. They intimate they have knowledge of a motive which they cannot make public at the present time.

Mrs. Staehle was unable to talk to the officers today, but it is expected she will be sufficiently recovered tomorrow to be able to make a statement.

Reuben Reed, who was arrested as a suspect, is still being held in the city jail.

SUDDEN DEATH OF B. W. BARNES

Came Into Limelight By Ejecting Mrs. Minor Morris from the White House.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—Benjamin W. Barnes, postmaster of this city, who served first as executive clerk under President McKinley and later as assistant secretary to President Roosevelt, dropped dead here tonight of heart failure.

Barnes had been in particularly good humor today in view of the fact that he had today been admitted to practice before the supreme court of the District of Columbia.

On at least two occasions Barnes came prominently into the limelight. One was at the time he was alleged to have played a part in ejecting Mrs. Minor Morris, a sister of Representative Hull of Iowa, from the White House. The event caused a sensation at the time. President Roosevelt stood resolutely by Barnes and further emphasized his friendship by appointing him, about three and a half years ago, as postmaster.

A storm of protest was raised by Washingtonians against the appointment, the principal objection being that he was not a local man, although Barnes had lived here for about a quarter of a century.

WOMAN JUROR NOT CALLED.

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 20.—Mrs. Johanna Engleman, the only "jury woman" ever drawn for service in California, was disappointed again today in not having an opportunity to sit as a juror in the superior court.

She was present with other jurors ready to do her duty, but there was no jury case on Judge Houser's calendar and she was excused with the others until Friday morning.

FAKER IS ARRESTED.

CHICAGO, Oct. 20.—Harry Forbes, the prize fighter, was arrested and arraigned here today, charged with having used the mails to defraud. He pleaded not guilty. The arrest was made in connection with the federal investigation of the alleged "fake" prize fights.

KOENIGSBURG, Germany, Oct. 20. —It is officially confirmed that two persons have died of cholera this week in the district of Niederung, East Prussia.

Y. M. C. A. SENIORS TO PUT ON GLOVES

Twenty Join the New Boxing Class.

Athletes May Hold Race Meet in Roeding Park This Winter.

Twenty members of the Y. M. C. A. Senior class formed a boxing club last evening. The meeting was held at the association with Director Monteen present. The size of the class exceeded all expectations and it will become necessary to turn the entire gymnasium over to the boxers each Wednesday evening as the boxing room is entirely too small to house the twenty seniors.

An important meeting of the Fresno Grammar School Athletic league was held yesterday at the Y. M. C. A. Every principal in the city was present. They are the directors of the league. Plans were formulated for holding a playground's series, which is outdoor ball in the open air on a regulation indoor diamond. Outdoor ball will be taken up later and the season will close with a track meet. It is hoped to hold the athletic events at Roeding Park, if arrangements can be completed whereby no vehicles will be allowed along the driveways on the day of the meet. An entrance fee of 20 cents for each youngster was decided upon. This will go into a fund for purchasing baseballs and car fare. The playgrounds committee has assisted the league financially.

The league teams will have better facilities in the way of ball grounds this winter. The diamonds are in splendid shape. Three are located on Illinois street and one each at the following named schools: Emerson, Lowell, Lincoln, Webster and Jefferson.

Six High school boys were present at the meeting and volunteered their services to act as umpires for the coming series. It is proposed to give the younger athletes an opportunity to perform this season, as an auxiliary to the first league will be formed for the youths. Heretofore each school has entered its older athletes and relegated the energetic juniors to the rear of the procession.

Physical Director J. H. Fee received word yesterday that the annual state convention of the Y. M. C. A. had been postponed from November to the latter part of February. The local mandolin club will attend.

FOOTBALL PLAYER BADLY PARALYZED

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 20.—Oliver Lannon, 19 years of age, a football player on the team of the University of Southern California, is lying at the Clara Barton hospital in this city with a broken back and is liable to die at any moment, the attending surgeons say. He was injured in Saturday's game between the team of which he is a member and that from Pomona college, at Claremont. He is paralyzed from his neck down. Lannon is from Pueblo, Colo.

"GROWERS PLAYING A FOOLISH GAME"

Should Organize for Their Self-Protection.

So Says Alexander Gordon at Meeting of Realty Board.

That the raisin growers must organize for their self protection was the advice of Alexander Gordon, of the Sacramento State Bank in an interesting address before the Fresno Realty Board at the fair grounds yesterday afternoon. The occasion was the regular weekly luncheon of the real estate men. Mr. Gordon, who is a former resident of this city, is familiar with local conditions, having been connected with the Raisin association of several years ago.

The visitor is now vice president and head expert of the Sacramento State Bank. He makes frequent visits here, giving him an insight into the raisin situation. This made his words have great weight with the twenty guests around the table.

"If the growers do not organize and take some steps to protect themselves, it is quite a question whether the Sacramento bank will forward any more money on Fresno lands."

The speaker held that it was up to the growers to fix their own prices and that they could do it without meeting any competition. He thought that the Tideman plan or any other plan, whether a million dollar one or not, would be feasible. He advised the growers to get together immediately. Mr. Gordon explained that his experience with the Raisin Growers' Association taught him that at least 65 per cent of the total acreage must be signed up.

"The growers who remain outside an association are playing a foolish game. They can fix the price if they combine and get at least three cents," said the speaker. Then he dwelled at length on terminal rates, advising immediate action.

"If you do not show the railroads competition you cannot hope to accomplish anything. I should judge that it would require but three months of navigation in a year to settle the problem. I favor bonding the county for a sum necessary to connect Fresno with the San Joaquin river."

Mr. Gordon also spoke briefly on the advantages of Fresno as a dairying center. W. N. Harris, a former Fresno real estate man, now a resident of Los Angeles, talked along the same lines as Mr. Gordon. He said that terminal rates were also that the city needed to advance at an astonishing rate. Mr. Harris also referred to the dairy resources. He said that many colonists from the East are now in Los Angeles and some would come here to take up dairying.

John Mount of Napa, a partner in the firm of Mount & Son, was present and was called upon to address the meeting. Mr. Mount said that Fresno should get communication with tide water by all means, as it meant a saving of money to the city. He stated that Napa had the same experience that this city is now having and that his suggestion was the chief means of getting terminal rates from the railroads.

Secretary McDaniel read a communication from State Secretary Burdette, seeking information as to the Turkish-American Tobacco Company. The letter was written from Los Angeles. The following committee was appointed to investigate the enterprise and report accordingly to Secretary Burdette: H. H. Alexander, chairman; H. A. Barkelew and S. M. Henderson. The committee was appointed by President F. J. Haber last night.

LOS ANGELES GETS MORE TERRITORY

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 20.—By a vote of 517 for, to 95 against, Colegrove and the extensive territory just west of the city limits voted yesterday to become a part of the city of Los Angeles.

Los Angeles sealed the bond by a vote of 5,782 for, to 319 against annexation. It is estimated that the annexed territory contains a population of 10,000 and that its assessed value is $12,000,000. It has an area of ten square miles.

TUCSON, Arizona, Oct. 20.—At a special meeting of the city council tonight, charges were filed against Mayor Ben Heney, a brother of Francis J. Heney, the San Francisco graft prosecutor, by Yee Kam, a Chinese whose place of business was entered by the mayor on July 25 last, according to the charges. Kam alleges disorderly conduct on the part of the mayor.

It is asserted that the charges are part of an effort to oust Heney. No action has been taken by the council.

BUREAU DECLARES SYRIANS CAN'T VOTE

"Asiatics" and Not Eligible to Citizenship.

Same Contention Raised as That Concerning Armenians in Fresno.

LA CROSSE, Wis., Oct. 20.—Under a ruling received here today from R. S. Coleman, chief examiner of the census bureau at Washington, one hundred Syrian voters in La Crosse will lose their citizenship, with hundreds of others throughout the Northwest will be affected. The ruling is that Syrians, being of Asiatic origin, are not "white persons," within the meaning of the law. Syrians here have voted for years and form an important colony. Most of them have taken out first papers.

The above recent ruling is undoubtedly predicated on the instructions sent out last month by Richard K. Campbell, chief at Washington of the division of naturalization, and which created such a sensation when received locally to oppose all naturalization applications of Armenians on the ground that they are Turks and that a Turk, besides being a believer in polygamy, is not "a free white person," as the term is used in section 2169 U. S. R. S. The division ruling has been to hold that the Turks are of the yellow race.

In the official correspondence containing citations and discussing the law and decisions recurring the right to become naturalized the Turk and Syrian are incidentally coupled as an example to show that without being able to define a white person yet the average man in the street understands distinctly what is meant and will find no difficulty in assigning the Turk or Syrian to the yellow race.

The instructions barred Hindoos because they are classed as Aryans or Caucasians to use a more acceptable term. The Turks are put down in a very essential sense as Asiatics, and it was hinted that a far more serious conflict upon this point would be presented by the case of the Jews, who were declared to be undoubtedly Orientals in the sense that they sprang from Asiatic sources.

So also the people of the Barbary states and of Egypt were assigned to Asiatic origin, conceding after all is said and done that color or complexion is not the test and that the term "white person" is ambiguous and the use of the words in the statute "unfortunately chosen."

The same question came up yesterday in Los Angeles, and the following dispatch shows that the government is actively opposing citizenship in these cases:

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 20.—The question of whether George Shusine, a Syrian, can be admitted to citizenship was up before Judge Hutton in the superior court today. Objection had been made on the ground that he is of Mongolian descent.

Judge Hutton said that while he had given the question long and earnest consideration, he was not yet ready to give his decision, and announced that he would decide the matter on next Wednesday at 10 o'clock. He stated that while he had misgivings in the case will many misgivings, he labored still more uncertainly as to what he should do after hearing the arguments.

H. L. Willis of San Bernardino, deputy United States attorney, represented the government, and made a strong argument against the admission of the party at bar. It was the desire of the authorities at Washington, he said, to make a test case, although he admitted that Syrians had been naturalized in Los Angeles for the past nine years without objection and more than 17,000 had been given citizenship in the United States.

He did not believe that a Syrian was a free white person within the meaning of the law.

TWO COUPLES ARE UNITED IN WEDLOCK

Two weddings were performed yesterday by Rev. Coke Woods. The first of the ceremonies occurred at the North Methodist parsonage, when Miss Lucile Weyant was united in wedlock to Carl Westrup in the presence of a few intimate friends. Both are from Enterprise Colony.

The second wedding occurred at the home of L. K. Whitcomb on L street, the contracting parties being Miss Christine Gustafson and William M. Stymets, both of Wheatville. The ring ceremony was used and a number of relatives and friends were in attendance to wish the young couple a long and prosperous life.

L. R. ROGERS' SON DIES OF INJURIES

Burns Sustained in Steam Explosion Fatal.

Deceased Youth Was Former Student in High School.

Lindsay Rogers, the 19-year-old son of L. R. Rogers, the well known owner of the Las Palmas ranch, died last night at the home of his parents as the result of burns received on the evening before during the explosion of a steam pipe. Young Rogers at the time of the accident is said to have been investigating a leak in one of the stills at the winery when the defective pipe suddenly gave way and allowed the steam to envelope the body of the youth.

Though his injuries at the time were regarded as painful they were not considered fatal, and even up to yesterday afternoon Dr. W. T. Maupin, who was the attending physician, stated that he thought fatal results were not probable. When the accident occurred the youth's mother was in San Francisco, and it was not until her son took a turn for the worse that she was summoned.

One fourth of the boy's body is said to have been scalded, the flesh evidently being scorched deeper than was apparent from the outside. The face was only slightly scalded.

Young Rogers was formerly a student at the local high school, and was regarded as a very apt pupil. He was not of a very robust constitution, however, and some time since he was allowed to remain on his father's place and in the open air in the hope that he would gain in strength. It was while he was about his work that he met with the accident that cost him his life.

Besides his parents the youth is survived by Blaine, an elder brother, and a sister, Helen.

FARMERS' UNION HAS NEW CARTONS

President Sorensen Visits at Headquarters.

Official Says Raisins Are Now Going Up and "Why He Should Worry."

Local officers of the Farmers' Union were about yesterday afternoon proudly exhibiting their new "Union Seal" raisin cartons, the first carload of which have just been received direct from the manufacturer in the East. The cartons are to be used for the fancy raisins. They are blue in color and particularly pleasing to the eye. Many orders for raisins that the union has received and which have been purposely held back until the arrival of the cartons will now be filled without delay.

President Sorensen was in town yesterday from his vineyard for the first time in about a week and was a welcome guest at union headquarters. It was his second visit since he returned ill from his vacation. Yesterday he remained at headquarters but a few minutes and then went directly home. He expects to be able to resume his duties within two weeks or so, though he has been advised by his physician and by friends who consider that he has been working too hard not to be in too much of a hurry about "getting into harness" again.

It is stated by union officials that they are having no trouble about placing the raisins now in their hands, and that though the prices are not approaching anything like what they desire, the fact that there is demand for the product has given them considerable hope for the future.

"One thing is certain," said one of the officials yesterday, "the price of raisins cannot drop any further than it has. The price is as low as any of us will ever see if we stay in Fresno county for a hundred years. So all our worries are over now—all we have to do is to sit back and watch the price of raisins crawl back to the proper figure."

LIPTON MAY FAIL IN SECURING RACE

Rules Governing America Cup Contests Not Likely to Be Changed for Him.

NEW YORK, Oct. 20. The coming of Sir Thomas Lipton to the United States has stirred up a deal of interest as to what measure of success the Irish baronet will have in his endeavors to bring about another race for the America's cup.

Sir Thomas is expected here Saturday on the steamship Cedric, and will ascertain from members of the New York Yacht Club whether they will accept a challenge under the universal rules that now govern races held by the New York Yacht Club or whether the club still insists that the cup contest must be held under the old conditions, which permit the greatest maximum of speed upon a given waterline length without other restrictions.

Sir Thomas holds that the old rule has resulted in the development of freak yachts of such flimsy construction that there is grave danger of the challenger going to pieces at sea while being brought to this country on her own bottom, as provided in the conditions of the contest. But under the present racing rules, Sir Thomas believes that a fast, substantial yacht can be built and the challenger for the cup can be assured some chance of success.

The baronet hopes to convince the New York Yacht Club that a race for the American cup can never again be held under the old conditions and that if the club maintains the attitude it took two years ago it is equivalent to locking up the classic "mug" in the club's trophy room.

It was learned today, however, that unless the present feeling among the more influential members of the club undergoes a change, Sir Thomas' visit is likely to fail.

"Doubtless many members of the club and the public generally would like to see another Shamrock in these waters," said a prominent officer of the New York Yacht Club today, "but Sir Thomas must challenge under the old conditions, which are provided for in the deed of gift.

"The feeling of the club has undergone no change since Sir Thomas' challenge was declined two years ago."

TO LET LIGHT IN, TO GET "SHINE" OUT

Soghian Threatens to Alter His Building to Get Rid of Bootblack in Alley.

Domenico Pellegrini, who is boot polisher extraordinary for the court house employes and the lawyers in the Temple Bar and Land Company buildings, is the first to have visited on him the rigors of a landlord because of the new ordinances licensing the bootblacking industry and making it a misdemeanor for an abutting land owner to charge rent for a bootblack stand in a public alley.

Domenico has been paying $12 a month for the stand place at the Mariposa street and alley corner under a lease for three years. Landlord Soghian has been hinting that he move and Domenico has said nay several times and no rent has been paid.

Domenico accents trouble for a bricklayer has been about making measurements to put in six windows in the restaurant brick wall on the alley to compel the removal of the bootblack stand. Domenico has been consulting his lawyer clients and has resolved to show sight, first by moving his stand back into the alley progressively only with each successive window; if that does not do, to have the authorities stop the weakening of the wall with windows, and as a last resort to sue perhaps on the expired lease.

The funeral of Marine Sughian will be held this morning from St. John's Catholic church at 9 o'clock. That of Ermenio Antognoli will start at 9:30 from St. Alphonsus Catholic church.

NEW UNION STATION PLANNED IN CHICAGO

CHICAGO Oct. 20.—James McCrea, president of the Pennsylvania railroad, announced here today plans for the erection of a new union passenger station and terminal in Chicago to cost not less than $25,000,000. With the Pennsylvania in the project are to be joined the Chicago and Alton, the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy and the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul.

GOES FROM JAIL TO DIVORCE COURT

Troubles of E. Desperati Just Beginning.

P. Gianini Drives Livery Horse to Death and May Be Arrested.

MADERA, Oct. 20. E. Desperati whom Miller & Lay are trying to send to the penitentiary for horse stealing, but who won out in the Appellate Court, got out of jail yesterday on bail, just in time to defend a suit for divorce. His wife had gone on his bond, but when she decided she wanted a divorce, she withdrew, and it was to the jail house for Desperati.

His friends came to his rescue today, qualifying as follows: P. Paganini, $2000; A. Lambardi, $1000; L. Salvarino, $500; L. Oberti, $2000; Vincent Belli, $500; Louisa Barsotti, $1000; A. L. Lavorone, $1000; A. Peirini, $1000.

From jail Desperati walked into the divorce court, the case coming up before Judge Trabucco. Desperati evidently thinks he's in bad in Madera, because he raised a jurisdictional question, claiming Merced as the place of residence of himself and wife. Mortgages and a bail bond, signed by Mrs. Desperati as a resident of Merced, were introduced to sustain his contention. Mrs. Desperati denied having told several people that she was going to make her home in Merced. She said she signed the papers without reading, under threats by her husband. The case promises to be hard fought.

P. Gianini hired a horse and buggy from C. Curtin's livery stable yesterday morning, stating that he wished to go to the Monte, about three miles from town. Instead he drove to Firebaugh, returning at 7 o'clock last night. An hour later the horse died, in spite of the efforts of a veterinarian to save its life. Gianini paid for the animal today. It is probable that he will be prosecuted by the humane society on a charge of cruelty to animals.

Seton Boren, who has been kept in jail several days on a charge of disturbing the peace, was brought before Judge Barnett this morning and the case dismissed. He was arrested on a new complaint, sworn to by Night Watchman Kingston, charging him with the larceny of $5 and pleading prior convictions against him for long terms and injuring a jail for which he served time in San Quentin. The [illegible] of the priors makes his offense a felony and he will be given a preliminary examination tomorrow.

The Stein-Archibald suit, which involves a partnership interest in lands in this county, was tried before Judge Trabucco yesterday and will be submitted on briefs.

Mrs. Jennie C. Mace and Miss Carrie Whiteford went to San Francisco today.

P. C. Thiele and wife and W. A. Gill [illegible] were passengers to San Francisco this morning.

F. U. PACKING HOUSE AT PARLIER BUSY

Has Latest Machinery and Is Doing a Good Business; Community Notes.

PARLIER, Oct. 20. The Farmers' Union here, known as the Ross Canal, has erected a very neat and up to date packing house, with the latest improved machinery, and the union is doing quite a good business.

In the near future a Farmers' Institute is to be held here.

The Parlier grammar school is progressing very nicely with three teachers.

Judging from the amount of raisins being delivered here a good part of the [illegible] crop has been sold.

J. F. Ebrd has put up a [illegible] gallon tank and connected water pipes with sprays on all his buildings as a protection against fire. He is also going to put in an electric motor instead of his gas engine.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Herrin are rejoicing in a baby girl.

Parlierites in need of a good doctor to locate here.

The Ladies' Aid society met at Mrs. J. N. Thomas' Thursday and reported a very pleasant time.

J. N. Thomas has a new automobile.

Mrs. J. H. Parlier and daughter have gone to Marysville to visit her parents.

Kane, catcher for the Parlier ball team, got quite badly hurt Sunday while playing a game with the Selma team. He will be on crutches for several days.

Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Cody of Los Angeles have been guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Parlier this past week.

Prayer meeting each Wednesday evening at the church is quite generally attended.

BALLINGER VISITS ARIZONA PROJECTS

PHOENIX, Ariz., Oct. 19.—Secretary of the Interior Ballinger, accompanied by L. C. Hill, supervising engineer of the reclamation service, arrived here this morning from Yuma. He met with the board of governors of the Salt River Valley Water Users' Association and inspected the local offices of the reclamation service. Later at the Indian school he delivered a short address. From there he took a twenty-mile ride through the section covered by the distributing system of the government irrigation project. Returning he visited the land office.

Tomorrow Secretary Ballinger will visit the Roosevelt dam and the Granite Reef dam. Thursday he goes to Parker, where he expects to meet Postmaster General Hitchcock and catch the eastbound train at Ashfork Friday morning. He will visit Albuquerque and Santa Fe and thence go direct to Washington.

WOMAN HAS NARROW ESCAPE IN RUNAWAY

Another Woman Burned By Powder in Stove.

Young Man Steals Motorcycle and Is Caught; New Oil Company.

VISALIA, Oct. 20. Mrs. [illegible] escaped injury this afternoon in one of the most remarkable runaway accidents that ever occurred locally. Standing in front of a Main street store, the horse switched a fly out of the driver's hand, and when an attempt was made to recover it, started to run. The horse turned a short corner at the National Bank of Visalia building, narrowly escaping throwing Mrs. [illegible] out. Again it dashed into the curbing but again the [illegible] righted. In front of the office of the Tulare County Land company in the bank building, a horse and buggy were standing, and into the rear of this the runaway plunged. The animal's forelegs went through the top and the vehicle [illegible] and the frightened horse across an alley almost into the door of the Main saloon. Both vehicles crashed the walk and both horses fell in the shafts. The first buggy was piled almost on top of the one in front but neither capsized. A dozen men rushed to the woman's assistance and she was helped from her seat while others sat upon and held the horses. Aside from the severe shock Mrs. [illegible] was uninjured. Both vehicles were wrecked.

Mrs. Williams, wife of Supervisor A. C. Williams of this city is recovering from burns inflicted when she unwittingly poured a quantity of black powder into the kitchen stove. Her eyebrows were singed off and her hands were severely burned.

Mrs. Williams removed articles from a top pantry shelf, unmindful that a bag of black powder had been placed there or that the bag had bursted and it had spilled over the shelf. The powder was transferred into a dustpan and, with other things, placed in the stove. At this instant Mrs. Williams recalled the powder and sprang back just in time to prevent receiving the flash full in the face. The detonation was heard several blocks. The burns are not serious.

Leo Purser, a young man claiming to be from Spokane, who last night stole a motorcycle from Hugh McPhail of this city, left standing in front of the latter's house, will be held to answer before the juvenile court. He looks younger than 18 and he gives his age at 15.

Purser used a nail for a spark plug and drove the machine to Exeter where he was arrested by Constable Griggs and brought to this city. He admitted the crime but gives no reason.

Articles of incorporation of the Lake Shore Oil company, with Visalia as its principal place of business, were filed today. The company is capitalized for $[illegible], [illegible] with $[illegible] actually subscribed. The directors are C. I. Giddings, J. Sub Johnson, J. D. Martin, B. B. Dudley, E. E. Dudley, Dan McFadzean and C. C. Farnsworth.

It is the intent of the company to develop wells for other companies and concerns, either by lease, on shares, or a division of the land.

Articles of incorporation of the Triple Bar Live Stock company, with principal place of business Lemon Cove, in this county, were filed today. The company is capitalized for $[illegible] of which $[illegible] has been actually subscribed. The company will deal in cattle and other live stock. The directors and stockholders are C. E. Foodale, Irving C. Wi[illegible], Edmund [illegible], Thomas Hom[illegible] and Truman Hom[illegible].

The local courts have elected delegates to the high court, Independent Order of Foresters to be held in Fresno the forepart of next month. The delegates are: Court Giant Oak, T. J. Boyer, D. S. Lipscomb and Fred G. Hamilton; Court Visalia—J. Labdell, Mrs. C. L. Rosenquest, B. U. Ueberling, T. J. Cross and J. A. Thomas.

The Visalia club has elected the following officers for the ensuing six months: President, G. A. Fleming; vice president, R. F. Cross; secretary, James Richardson; treasurer, L. C. Hyde. Additional directors are L. Lawrence, E. D. Larkins, N. F. Bradley and C. T. Bevins.

The announcement that the laying of the crosswalks, which matter has been hanging fire for almost a year, will be commenced tomorrow, is being received with acclaim by local citizens. About eighty-five will be laid and the work will be completed within two weeks. Bonds were voted for the crossings about eighteen months ago.

The "Bizey B" dancing club gave its first party at the St[illegible] hall tonight. There was a good attendance and a pleasant time enjoyed. Other parties may be given during the season.

SMYRNA SHIPMENTS RELEASED BY U. S.

Was Diplomatic Tangle, Says Importer.

American Consul Inspects Packing Houses and Says They Are Sanitary.

[illegible] New York, October 21. [illegible] Smyrna figs [illegible] New York [illegible] Department of Agriculture [illegible] Washington [illegible] the recent [illegible] of the [illegible] New York was the result of a diplomatic tangle in which the Departments of State, Treasury and Agriculture were involved.

The summary action on the part of the Department of Agriculture last week in ordering that consignments of Smyrna figs be held up in the custom house created a most decided stir in the dried fruit trade and brought out criticisms which kept the wires busy between this city and Washington and the capitals between Smyrna and the national capitol.

According to a reliable but not official authority, the trouble came about through petty jealousies between different interests in Smyrna.

It is said by one who is in touch with the situation that an American packer of figs started a plant at Nazli, in the center of the fig growing district. The governor of the province of Smyrna, which is the shipping point, is said to have received protests from the other packers in connection with the American packer and issued an order prohibiting the packing of the fruit by an American. Then the American packer started in with his protests and registered a complaint because of the treatment he had received from the local government at Smyrna.

At this juncture, so the informant says, the United States consul stated that while the controversy was on he would not issue any consular statements that the goods were in a sanitary condition to any of the parties involved in the fight. Some goods had gone forward previous to the decision of the consul and were included in the cable that they should be held up. The State Department was notified of conditions, then the word was passed along to the Department of Agriculture and the order to the Treasury Department was issued holding all the consignments for further orders.

"Then we got busy," a dried fruit handler said yesterday, "and put the officials at Washington in touch with the real condition of affairs, and the result was that the consul at Smyrna was cabled to investigate the packing conditions and reply as to what goods should be released. His reply was that practically every packer had conformed with proper sanitary regulations.

"I have personally visited several of the fig packing plants in the Smyrna district and I can say from my own observation that there is less cause for criticism on packing conditions there than there is in the average canning establishment in this country."

From another source it was learned that these differences of opinion in the fig trade have been going on for the past two years and that government authorities have been looking into the matter for a long time and have been passing figs which were, if anything, packed under conditions not as favorable as those which were held up.

"The importers were well pleased over the order to release the bulk of the goods as showing that there is nothing wrong with the quality of their product.

BRAKIES ACCUSED OF CAR BURGLARY

One Dropped Evidence That Led to His Identity.

Other Denying Crime Has Some of Stolen Articles on His Person.

Brakemen J. [illegible] Wellington and Warren D. Thompson of the Southern Pacific are in jail under the charge of burglary, and complaint was sworn to before Justice [illegible] yesterday afternoon to hold them. Wellington has confessed the crime before the district attorney in the presence of witnesses. Despite this fact and the incriminating circumstances, Thompson denies participation in the crime. Both are Oaklanders, Thompson having a family of wife and two children.

The burglary was committed on Sunday last and presumably the car was entered at Mendota. The car was in a freight train en route to Bakersfield from San Jose via Tracy. Entrance was effected at the stapled end opening under the car guide. According to the statement of Wellington there is reason to believe that the car had been previously visited, because the seals hangs were in great confusion within the car.

At any rate [illegible] goods and other articles were abstracted from a car consigned to Kutner Goldstein [illegible] [illegible] reported. Special Agents W. F. Wade and Thomas were sent here to make an investigation with the result stated. The two brakemen were arrested on Tuesday night after sufficient evidence had been gathered to connect them with the burglary of the car, both unconsciously furnishing the proofs of their guilt.

The burglarized car having been examined after reaching its destination, there was found in it a purse containing about $6 in money, also a button wrench, [illegible] a man's wearing apparel and a time card, [illegible] Wellington's handwriting. By the caboose was found a coat of Wellington's with a cotton missing such as packed away in the freight car. This circumstance with the purse and the time card was considered sufficient as both belonged to him and the three articles had been lost in the rush of the burglary. However, as before stated, Wellington has confessed the crime.

From the case of goods were abstracted certain gray overshirts with a particular brand. Thompson had one of these shirts on but the sewed-in brand mark had been carefully removed. In the caboose in his possession was found another. From the case were stolen a particular kind of merino socks. Thompson was found to be wearing one of these, and he had also a Mexican leather purse with a bear brand. Such articles were also in the consignment shipped to the [illegible] firm.

"Do you smoke?" asked Assistant District Attorney Hawson of Thompson while he was being questioned after Wellington had made his statement connecting him with the crime.

"Yes, a pipe," was the answer.

"Let me see it," asked the attorney. The pipe was a comparatively new red briar pipe with the "F. C. B." brand. Four such pipes are missing from the consigned lot of goods.

PORTUGUESE SOCIETY EXPRESSES THANKS

To the honorable city and county officials, the generous merchants of the city of Fresno and the public in general:

The Portuguese colony of Fresno and especially Council Fraternity No. 23, U. P. E. C., give grateful thanks to the worthy officials of the city and county for their willingness and kindness in cooperating with us during the stay of the supreme council of the U. P. E. C. in the city of Fresno.

We are very thankful to the Morning Republican and its evening contemporaries for the almost partial interest they have taken in us during the said period, and we acknowledge ourselves under great obligation to the ever generous merchants of the city of Fresno for the many and magnificent [illegible] we received at their hands.

And we finally thank the public in general for their good will towards us during the time we endeavored to attract their good attention.

Gratefully subscribed,
COUNCIL FRATERNITY No. 23,

HIGH SCHOOL H. OF R.

The High School House of Representatives Tuesday afternoon decided in favor of an Entrance test for the [illegible]. The administration of [illegible] was upheld by Huggins of [illegible], Maryland, [illegible] Bissell of Wyoming, while Kerbison of Massachusetts and [illegible] of Tennessee argued for the negative. The remainder of the time was given to a discussion of current events. Miss Rowell, president of the United States, gave many helpful suggestions. A number of new members have been added to the organization.

UNITARIAN PULPIT.

Honor Yourself.

Honor yourself. Refuse to believe any mediaeval traditions that assert your depravity of soul and impotence of power. Believe in yourself as one honorable and worthy of honor. Recognize your own divinity of soul as the child of the eternal God. Awaken to the fact that there is no one anywhere or ever has been, who is more to be honored than yourself. Stop worshiping the God without and begin worshiping the God within. You will find in yourself your aspirations, your affections, ideals, more of God than you will find anywhere else. As the child of the Eternal you are immortal and divine. Honor yourself. You are not a fallen lost soul, but a rising son of God!

OIL STOCK BROKERAGE ON AN ESTABLISHED BASIS

Fred W. Gregory & Co. have opened an office across the street from the Grand Central hotel on J street, and will list oil stocks to buy and sell as an exclusive business.

Local operators and investors have not at the present time a reliable independent agency through which active stocks may be expeditiously bought and sold and accurate information as to the physical and financial condition of the many active companies is not always available to would-be investors.

We propose to establish a permanent and reliable brokerage business, where active stocks will be listed by us on a public bulletin board in our office, showing stocks wanted as well as those listed for sale.

For the information of our clients we will have an accurate statement of the physical and financial condition under which the companies are operating, whose stocks we list.

Our methods should appeal to all legitimate operators, whose stocks are in the open market, and to all classes of buyers and most especially to new investors, who are not always able to get a close knowledge of the absolute requirements of a successful oil investment.

Mr. Gregory is well informed of the methods that now obtain in the buying of local oil stocks and is well known in Fresno and should do well in taking up a line of this kind.

S.S.S. CURES BLOOD POISON
Removing the outward symptoms is not all that is necessary to cure Contagious Blood Poison. The virulent germs which produce these external manifestations must be completely driven from the blood before a real cure can be effected. The least taint left in the circulation will sooner or later cause a fresh outbreak of the trouble, with all its hideous symptoms of ulcerated mouth and throat, copper-colored spots, falling hair, sores and ulcers, etc. Only a blood purifier can cure Contagious Blood Poison. Medicines which merely check the symptoms for a time, because of their strong mineral nature, and leave the poison smouldering in the system, have brought disappointment to thousands. The disease always returns after such treatment. S.S.S. cures Contagious Blood Poison and cures it permanently. It goes into the blood, and removes every particle of the poison, making the circulation pure, rich and healthy, nor does S.S.S. leave the slightest trace of the disease for future outbreaks. S.S.S. does not contain any mineral ingredient, but is made entirely of roots, herbs and barks, which are most valuable in their blood-purifying properties, and at the same time specifically adapted to building up the entire system. If you have Contagious Blood Poison S.S.S. will cure you because it will thoroughly purify your Blood. Home Treatment Book and any medical advice free to all.

CHESTER H. ROWELL, Editor and Manager

ONE OF THE "FREAKS"

Oklahoma's constitution is doubtless, as President Taft characterized it, "a zoological garden of freaks." It contains, like the California constitution, too much detailed legislation, which ought to have been left to the legislature, and it has patent, not to say quack remedies for some evils for which nobody knows the true cure.

But there are are mitigations, even in zoological garden freaks, one of which has recently come to light. The freakest thing in Oklahoma is a supreme court which respects the constitution and laws, and deems justice more important than technical impeccability.

The recent case of Byers vs. Territory, decided by the Criminal Court of Appeals of Oklahoma, on July 29, 1909, is extremely interesting—and the most interesting thing about it is that it should be interesting. An honest man or a virtuous woman are not interesting—they are too common. It is at least startling to realize that a broadly intelligent supreme court decision should be interesting by virtue of its rarity.

This is a case where an undoubted error prejudicial to the defendant, is not regarded as ground of reversal, because, on an examination of the whole case the verdict is found to have been correct and it is evident that no other verdict could have been reached, even without the erroneously admitted testimony.

A woman was found shot, and there was conclusive testimony, both direct and circumstantial, that her husband shot her. He was placed on trial and found guilty. In the course of the trial, a physician testified to the location and course of the wounds, one in the back of the head and the other in the back of the shoulder, and to the fact that there were no powder marks or other signs that the weapon had been held near to the body. This, of course, was competent and relevant expert testimony. But the physician was also asked whether in his opinion the wounds could have been self-inflicted, and he answered that they could not. This was error, since the law is that an expert can not be called to give his opinion on a question on which anybody's opinion is as good as his. The physical impossibility of these wounds being self-inflicted was so obvious to anybody that it was error to call on an expert to say so. The appeal court so held, but, on a review of the testimony in the whole case it found that no possible harm could have come of this error. There was no suggestion in the case that the wounds were self-inflicted, it was an obvious physical impossibility for them to have been so inflicted, and it was conclusively proved that they were inflicted by the defendant. Therefore the court refused to interfere, and entered into a long and illuminating discussion of the doctrine of "harmless error," for the guidance of the bench and the bar of the new state. The decision concludes:

"We have discussed this question at length because our criminal jurisprudence is now in its formation period, and we desire the bench and bar to understand fully the reasons and the grounds upon which we base our determination. When a defendant has been properly charged with an offense, and fairly tried and convicted, and the evidence sustains the conviction, we will not reverse the case upon any technicality or exception which did not work an injustice to the defendant."

This is, of course, the exact law of California, as enacted by the legislature, in the codes. It is the principle approved by the best expert thought in America, as laid down in the textbooks and approved by formal resolution of the American Bar association. But it is not the law as decreed by the supreme court of California. In fact, it is the law of very few supreme courts. Things have come to a pass that it is a "freak" for a state supreme court to be in touch with either the legislative will or the best thought of their own profession in interpreting that will. Oklahoma presents us this freak. There may be other freaks in Oklahoma less desirable. But at least this one deserves propagation.

LET DE LARA STAY

There is a certain local Fresno interest in the agitation over the proposed deportation to Mexico of Gutierrez de Lara, owing to the fact that John Kenneth Turner, with whom de Lara collaborated in gathering materials for the American magazine articles on "Barbarous Mexico," is a former Fresnan, who worked for some time as a reporter on the Republican. Turner was known in Fresno as a very bright but distinctly not conservative newspaper writer. Those who have worked with him will not doubt that he gave a favorable hearing to the views of the most radical revolutionists, and that he told his story with a certain perfervid picturesqueness of emphasis. But also there is no doubt that Turner has told a very important part of the truth in regard to Mexico's peon system, and that de Lara rendered valuable service in finding material for the articles. At any rate, his offense, if he committed one, was political, not criminal, and was therefore just the sort for which American policy does not extradite or deport. It is to be hoped that nothing will be done to make a martyr of de Lara. He is not safe on Mexican soil. We are safe with him on American soil. So let him stay.

Judge Kenesaw Mountain Landis has broken the fine record at both extremes. It was he who assessed the $29,000,000 fine against the Standard Oil Company. Now he has assessed a fine of one cent against a delinquent guilty of a technical misuse of the mails. It is to be hoped that the cent fine will stick tighter than the $29,000,000 did.

PEARY SUBMITS POLAR RECORDS

National Geographic Society Will Determine Whether He Reached "Big Nail."

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—Commander Robert E. Peary's proofs, records and observations that he reached the north pole April, 1909, were submitted today to the National Geographic Society. The board of managers of that body referred them for examination and report to a sub-committee of experts comprising Henry Gannett, chief geographer of the United States Geological Survey, Rear Admiral Colby M. Chester, U. S. N., and O. H. Tittman, superintendent of the United States Coast and Geodetic Survey. The society announced that the only question it now had to decide was whether Commander Peary reached the north pole on the date claimed.

The experts designated by the society will hold their first meeting within a few days and begin their investigation of the Peary data. They will practically examine the note books and original observations made by Commander Peary on his march to the pole and will see all papers brought back by him from the frigid North. The wide scope of the question renders it probable that the sub-committee will not report its findings for several months, but when ready the report will be submitted to a meeting of the board of managers of the society especially called for that purpose.

While the meeting was in progress and soon after the submission of the Peary data, a messenger brought a cablegram from the University of Copenhagen in reply to the society's request that that institution waive its first claim to Dr. Cook's records.

Professor Willis L. Moore, president of the National Geographic Society, declared, subsequent to the board meeting that the society believed that Commander Peary's claim that he had reached the pole should be passed upon without further delay.

"The society is ready to make similar examination of Dr. Cook's original observations and field notes," said President Moore, "but as he promised to send them to the University of Copenhagen and the society will not have an opportunity of seeing them probably for some months, it did not seem fair to defer action on Commander Peary's observations until Dr. Cook's were received.

"The action of the society was taken in accordance with the by-laws. The committee on research shall be charged with the consideration of all matters of scientific and technical geography including exploration, which may be brought before this society, or which may originate in the committee; and shall report thereon to the board of managers for action."

The society previously had urged both Commander Peary and Dr. Cook to submit their observations to a competent scientific commission in the United States.

The society joined in a request from the American Museum of Natural History, New York, and the American Geographical Society to President Remsen that he as president of the National Academy of Science appoint a commission to pass upon the records of both explorers. The society began to formulate plans for immediate action on the Peary records, when it was advised by President Remsen that he would not appoint a commission unless authorized by his council, which meets in November, and unless requested by both Peary and Cook.

POPE WILL HOLD TWO CONSISTORIES

Cardinals Are to Be Created Both in December and During Following Spring.

ROME, Oct. 20.—While the Pope only recently seemed determined not to have a consistency until 1910, it is now suddenly announced that one will be held about the middle of December and another next spring. It is added that the reason for holding two consistories is for the purpose of appointing as cardinals in the second consistory certain prelates who can not be included in the first.

Strict secrecy is being maintained regarding the names of those whom it is intended to elevate, but it is known Monsignor Mendes Bello, patriarch of Lisbon, will receive the red hat in December and it is also considered certain that Monsignor Bisleti, Papal major domo, will be elevated in the spring.

Regarding the appointment of a new American cardinal, Archbishop Farley of New York, Archbishop Ireland of St. Paul, and Archbishop O'Connel of Boston are considered the most likely candidates, while it is reported also that an American cardinal may be named as a member of the curia and therefore would live in Rome.

Others likely to receive the red hat are the Most Rev. Francis Bourne, archbishop of Westminster; Monsignor Falconio, apostolic delegate at Washington; Monsignor Giustini, secretary of the congregation of bishops; Monsignor Della Chiesa, archbishop of Bologne, and the archbishop of Buenos Aires and Florence.

ZOOLOGISTS CLIMB EXTINCT VOLCANO

NAIVASHA, British East Africa, Oct. 20.—Colonel Roosevelt, accompanied by R. J. Cunninghame, the hunter and guide, arrived here today. All members of the hunting expedition are doing well.

Edmund Heller, the zoologist of the party, returned last night, having ascended Mount Kenia to a height of 16,000 feet, or within 300 feet of the timber line. Mr. Heller said that Major Edgar A. Mearns was continuing the ascent, hoping to reach a height of 15,000 feet. Mount Kenia is an extinct volcano rising 17,200 feet, and Mr. Heller believed it was impossible for the climbers to reach the peak.

With the exception of Colonel Roosevelt, the members of the expedition have at one time or another experienced slight attacks of fever as the result of frequent changes of temperature. All are now in good health.

"NATURAL CAUSES" BUCHANAN VERDICT

LONDON, Oct. 20.—The verdict of the inquest into the death of William I. Buchanan, the American diplomatist, whose body was found in the street late Saturday night, was returned today and is to the effect that "death was due to natural causes."

Death, it is said resulted from heart failure, consequent upon the condition of fatty degeneration and diseased blood vessels. There was no evidence of apoplexy.

A memorial service for Buchanan was held today in All Saints church at Norfolk Square.

BRIEF EDITORIAL FANCIES SELECTED

Mrs. Belmont Causes Trouble

That which was most feared among the leaders of the woman suffrage movement has come to pass. The prominence of Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont in promoting the suffrage cause and the extent to which her activities have been exploiting have aroused a feeling of uneasiness among officers of the National Woman Suffrage Association and others connected in some official way with the fight for suffrage.

There is a suspicion that Mrs. Belmont is getting more attention than is her due. We would not suggest that there is anything akin to jealousy, though doubtless some folks opposed to suffrage will voice an opinion of that sort about it.

The situation is this: Such eminent leaders of suffrage as Dr. Anna Shaw and Mrs. Ida Husted Harper are making it plain that whatever Mrs. Belmont says about suffrage is merely a personal opinion and in no sense official.

One of Mrs. Belmont's utterances that does not please the national leaders is her declaration that bloodshed may be necessary before women get the ballot. Likewise, the boycotting of the men and the manhandling of the male sex in any brutal fashion is frowned upon.

It is unfortunate that differences should arise between Mrs. Belmont and other suffrage leaders. We rather scented that there was trouble ahead. It all goes to show that if women do get the ballot there will be equally interesting times.—Philadelphia Times.

Under the Black Flag

Hiram W. Johnson put the campaign in a sentence when he said: "The battle in San Francisco is against the system which has for its banner the black flag and the dollar sign." Between the freebooters of the "business" exploitation under the black flag and citizens who believe in civic honor there can be no compromise.—Oakland Enquirer.

Why Given Education?

H. I. Stafford, a Stanford graduate, spoke in favor of Francis J. Heney at a political rally in San Francisco on Monday evening last, saying:

You must think this a unique spectacle to see a Stanford man opposing Charles M. Fickert, another Stanford man. But this is not a campaign of personalities. A man is not given an education to betray The People by crooked thinking. When my father and you people gave me an education you had a right to expect something in return, and now I am making that return if any education helps you to see the light.

That is the proper spirit.

But how many university graduates view the matter through the lens of common honesty?

Abraham Ruef, for instance, is not the only man in California at the expense of the taxpayers who has turned around to betray and to rob The People, who paid for his education.—Sacramento Bee.

MORE TESTIMONY IN CHEESE FRAUDS

Witnesses Tell How Government Has Been Cheated Out of Customs Duties.

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—The trial of Antonio and Phillip Musica, cheese importers, charged with having defrauded the customs house by false weights, took an international aspect today. P. J. Gorman, vice consul general of the United States at Montreal, and Henry P. McLaughlin, surveyor of His Majesty's customs at the same port, arrived here to testify for the government.

Their presence strengthened the belief that the customs authorities are trying to trace weighing frauds to other ports besides New York.

George W. Birge, customs weigher in the government service, testified today that he had been defrauding the government by underweighing since he entered the service in 1901.

He said he had been promised immunity from prosecution and that he would not be dismissed from the service because of his admissions.

Birge declared that he had understated the weight of cheese shipped to A. Musica & Son in 1906 and had received $134 in payment from Phillip Musica. The money, Birge said, was paid through the medium of an assistant weigher named Williams. No books showing these transactions were kept, Birge said.

"How did you know that Williams was not swindling you or how did he know you were not swindling him?" Birge was asked.

"It was a case of honor among thieves," replied Birge. The witness said that he divided with other officials some of the money he received.

ITO DISCUSSES THE "OPEN DOOR"

Tells Manchurians That His Government Is Pledged to This Policy.

DARIEN, Manchuria, Oct. 20.—Prince Ito, president of the privy council of Japan, who is touring Manchuria, has accepted the invitation of the Viceroy of Mukden to be the latter's guest when he arrives at Mukden.

Prince Ito visited the schools and factories here today and took luncheon at the Russian consulate. He also attended a dinner of welcome arranged by 200 Japanese and Chinese residents. Speaking at the dinner Prince Ito reiterated that his visit in Manchuria was of a private character. He emphasized the importance of peace in the east and assured his hearers that the Japanese would follow strictly the principle of the open door and equal opportunity and expressed the hope that the Japanese of Manchuria would follow these precepts to the letter and co-operate with the Russians in the north in developing the country. He expressed his sympathy with the progressive policy adopted by China and said that the Japanese government was in duty bound to assist China in this development. He urged the necessity of the Chinese, Russians and Japanese avoiding differences and working together for the business development and peace of the east.

PERMITS TELEPHONE MERGER.

DES MOINES, Oct. 20.—Judge McHenry in the district court here today denied the injunction asked by minority stockholders in the Mutual Telephone Company restraining the Iowa Telephone Company from absorbing the Mutual or Independent line. The court holds that such a merger is not against public policy.

SEVENTY MILLION PENNIES.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 20.—So great has been the demand for new Lincoln pennies that nothing else has been coined at the mint in this city since the end of June. The output of the copper coins in the three and a half months has reached the total of 70,000,000 pennies.

PROFESSOR HUGO MUNSTERBERG DENIES MENTAL TELEPATHY

"Mental telepathy does not exist. I have come to this conclusion after many years of careful study and investigation. I am absolutely convinced that there is no such thing."

Prof. Hugo Munsterberg, of Harvard University, one of the foremost authorities on psychology in the world today, made this declaration to a representative of the Sunday World at Cambridge last week. As Prof. Munsterberg has charge of the psychological laboratory at Harvard and has written several text books and many books on psychology, his opinions on the subject of mental telepathy are most important. So many people have accepted mental telepathy as an established fact, because Bishop Fallows, Prof. William James, Prof. James H. Hyslop, Dr. Minot J. Savage and Dr. John D. Quackenbos have professed their belief in it, that Prof. Munsterberg's denial of its existence will come as a decided shock to many. Nevertheless it will please thousands who are skeptical, as Prof. Munsterberg is one of the most brilliant men in the field of experimental psychology in America.

"I am no longer investigating the phenomenon of mental telepathy, for I am now convinced that there is no such thing," said Prof. Munsterberg. "Physicists have tried to account for it by assuming the existence of an ethereal substance as fine as thought the vibrations of which affect simultaneously all brains which are attuned together. This theory is unsatisfactory, because of the unlikelihood of there ever being two brains so exactly alike as to vibrate in unison at every step of the complicated thought process. In addition, it fails to account for that phase of telepathy which relates to events still to come—clairvoyance.

"The story of the subconscious mind can be told in three words: 'There is none.'"—New York World.

SUGAR TRUST MADE MONEY BY LOWERING THE TARIFF

The secret truth of a gigantic hold-up of the American people is told in the current number of Hampton's Magazine, in which Judson C. Welliver, a recognized expert, is writing the first authoritative history of the Sugar Trust. Mr. Welliver is speaking of the tariff-disturbance of 1890 when he makes this astounding revelation:

The people, he says, vaguely understood that the tariff helped the Trust monopolize sugar and charge extortionate prices. The tariff was high and seemed to be good for the Trust; ergo, to take off the tariff would hurt the Trust. That was the public's reasoning process.

So the cry for free sugar went up on all sides. "Free sugar and down with the Trust!" was the slogan.

And when Congress met, Harry Havemeyer was on hand, heading the lobby that wanted the sugar duty removed!

"Certainly! the tariff is ruining the refiners and robbing the people," he declared. "The people don't understand this. There isn't any Trust, that's all bosh. Refineries shut down? Yes, I've heard that some companies have been forced to shut down; the tariff has ruined a good many of us, and the rest are hanging on by our eyelashes. Take off the tariff and sugar will get cheap, all right; then you'll discover how mistaken is all this clamor about a Trust. There isn't any; it's the tariff!"

The free-sugar shouters were aghast. The king of sugar demanding that his patent of kingship be taken from him!

Finally an explanation was arrived at. It was this:

Havemeyer, wanting the duty kept on sugar, was advocating its removal because he was sure the public would want the thing he didn't want! He was playing a deep game; but the public for once was too wise for him! It wouldn't fall into his trap! Not much, no, sir. The mere fact that Havemeyer said he wanted free sugar was the best possible proof that he wanted taxed sugar. So, hurrah for free sugar! Free sugar and down with the Trust!

And it worked. Havemeyer made the country think he wanted the duty, and was merely pretending to want free sugar.

What he wanted was free raw sugar, and a good, comfortable duty on refined. And this is why he wanted it:

The public believed the Trust made sugar costly. The Trust insisted that the Tariff did it. The truth was that both together did it.

If the 2-cent duty on raw sugar could be taken off, the Trust could reduce the price just that much, and yet not lose an iota of its profits; always provided, of course, that a safe duty could be kept on refined sugar, to keep out the foreign refiner.

If sugar were reduced near 2 cents in price, the public would think the Trust had had a fine walloping. It would be tickled half to death over its victory. It would forget its grievance against the Trust, and during the cessation of hostility the Trust would have time to get comfortably recognized under the New Jersey law.

And the Trust would not lose a cent!

Havemeyer wanted just what he said he wanted: free raw sugar. Some people believed him; most of them didn't; and in the fog and uncertainty Havemeyer managed to get raw sugar and with it the other thing he wanted, without anybody in particular understanding what that other thing meant to him: he manipulated Congress to let raw sugar in free, and to keep the duty on refined sugar at a half cent, which was enough to shut out any refining competition.

In short, the 1890 tariff gave the refiners free raw material and a prohibitive tariff on their product.

The Sugar Trust was popularly supposed to have met an overwhelming defeat. It had really won a victory that probably saved its life.

Appearing to have sustained a great defeat, the Trust actually strengthened its position so greatly that in the first year under the new tariff its profits were increased just about $5,000,000 as a direct result of that tariff change.

For the Trust did not give the consumer all the benefit of the removal of the tax. Under the new tariff the average price of raw sugar fell from 5.51 to 3.86 cents, a difference of 1.65 cents. That is, raw sugar was cheapened about eighteen one-hundredths more than refined sugar was.

What became of that difference, practically one-fifth of a cent? It certainly did not go to the consumer. It went into the Trust's strong box, in increased profits. The Trust sold, in 1891, about two and a half billions of pounds of sugar; and one-fifth of a cent on every pound, in the increased profit which the tariff made possible, figures up just about $5,000,000.

RAILWAY FOREMAN, IS ASSASSINATED

LEXINGTON, Oct. 20.—Charles Williams, foreman of construction of the Louisville & Nashville's new line, being built into the mountains of Eastern Kentucky, was shot and mortally wounded near Hindelle's last night.

Williams was shot by two men six weeks ago, but recovered. It is believed he was attacked last night by the same men. Their identity is not known.

SEATTLE MAN MAY GET PEKING POST

SEATTLE, Oct. 20.—It is stated on high authority that Thomas Burke, a wealthy lawyer of this city, has been asked if he would accept the post of minister to China if it were offered him. Judge Burke refuses to discuss the matter except to say that he has had no direct communication from the State Department. He has traveled extensively in the Orient, is personally acquainted with the statesmen of Japan and China and is a friend of President Taft, having been his fellow passenger on a voyage to Yokohama.

NO DRESS CLOTHES AT TAFT RECEPTION

MEMPHIS, Oct. 20.—Not a silk hat or a frock coat will be worn by the committee of business men who greet President Taft on his arrival here on October 27.

The ban has been placed on this form of dress on the ground that the President's visit is one purely of commercial significance and he is to be entertained by business men in a business like way.

Saved at St. Winnifred Hospital

(San Francisco Bulletin.)
The physicians in Honolulu could do nothing for United States Deputy Marshal Winters, and he gave them up in despair and came to San Francisco to see if there was any physician here who could cure an extreme case of chronic Bright's Disease. He had had two uraemic convulsions, was almost bursting with dropsy, and, after fighting the disease for two years, was at the end of the way. The physician he consulted in this city told him that chronic Nephritis is now a curable disease and that he would probably recover. He sent the patient to the St. Winnifred Hospital, put him on the new treatment for chronic kidney disease, Fulton's Renal Compound, and proceeded to aid it in ways that the skilled practitioner understands. In four months Winters went back to the Islands perfectly well.—San Francisco Bulletin.

We sent for the treatment given the patient referred to in the St. Winnifred Hospital with such remarkable results and have it in stock for patients here. Chronic Kidney Disease, including Bright's Disease and Diabetes, are now curable. Patterson Block Pharmacy.

Our Cows Are
As Contented and Healthy
As You Will Be If
You Use Our Milk

If you could only see our splendid herd of cows from whence comes the milk that we supply our trade, you would feel absolutely certain that nothing but rich and wholesome milk could come from such a source. They number 325. All are in perfect health and are kept so by the best of care, proper feeding, and strict attention to the sanitary conditions that surround them. They are indeed a contented lot, as contented as you will be if you use their milk.

Although perfectly healthy, their milk, like that of all healthy cows, contains some impurities. These impurities can only be removed by the clarifying process we employ. It is done by machinery, likewise the bottling. The milk is untouched by hands from cow to consumer. Order today if you prefer milk whose purity and richness you can depend upon.

WEATHER CONDITIONS

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 20.—There was a trace of rain on Mount Tamalpais today.

The following maximum and minimum temperatures are reported from Eastern stations for yesterday:

Chicago 55-41; New York 46-40; Omaha 48-42.

Forecast San Joaquin valley: Increasing cloudiness Thursday and probably rain by night; moderate west winds. Raisin growers should be ready to stack in the afternoon.

GENERAL CONDITIONS

The storm that was in the Pacific northwest Tuesday is moving eastward and is central this morning in the vicinity of the Dakotas. Under its influence rain has fallen during the last 24 hours along the Pacific coast from San Francisco northward to the British line, and rain or snow has also fallen in Idaho, Montana, the lower Missouri valley and adjacent territory. East of the Mississippi river the weather is generally fair, with low temperatures over the northern half of that section.

The pressure is gradually rising over the central portion of the Pacific slope, and it is probable that fair weather will prevail in Fresno and vicinity tonight and Thursday.

Social and Club News

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Manheim were hosts last night at a charming dinner of fourteen covers given in honor of Mrs. Manheim's pretty young cousin, Miss Rena Falk of Boise City, who is their house guest for a few weeks. Miss Falk is exceedingly popular in Boise society and has made a very pleasing impression here among her many friends. She is of a dainty, petite type of beauty and possesses a natural charm of manner that is extremely fascinating. Miss Falk is leaving on Friday for San Francisco in time for the wind-up of the gay Portola week on Saturday. She has a great many friends there who entertained her lavishly during her previous visit and who are anxious to have her with them for this gay week.

The dinner table was beautiful in its decorations of gorgeous pink roses, which formed the centerpiece, and in the exquisite appointments of the white and gold service. Places were marked by pretty monogram cards bearing the names of the following: Miss Falk, Miss Eugenia Maupin, Miss Adele Walsh, Miss Rosalie Gundelfinger, Miss Bonnie Carter, Miss Adaline Thornton, Messrs. A. M. Storm, Tom Minturn, Emil Gundelfinger, Jack Sprague, William McGann, Joseph Bernhard, the host and hostess.

The marriage of Miss Nora Bollinger of this city and Bruce Blakeley of Hanford was quietly solemnized last night at the residence of the bride's aunt, Mrs. J. R. Hancock, on Howard street. The bride is well known in this city, where she has lived the greater part of her life and where she has a host of friends. The groom is a popular young business man of Hanford and will take his bride there to live.

Decorations of pink and white garlands and greenery made the rooms festive for the wedding ceremony, which was performed by Rev. Duncan Wallace of the Cumberland Presbyterian church. The bride wore a becoming gown of white and carried white carnations. She was attended by Miss Gladys Wells, who was also gowned in white. Jesse Blakeley, a brother of the groom, attended him as best man. Miss Hattie Hancock, the bride's cousin, played the wedding march. After the ceremony refreshments were served. There were about thirty relatives and friends present at the wedding. Mr. and Mrs. Blakeley are spending their honeymoon in San Francisco.

The guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Blakely, Mrs. Alice Loveless, Mrs. E. R. Garner, Mrs. Frank Terrill, Mrs. C. Murray, Mr. and Mrs. Tony Wallace, Mrs. Will Osburn, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Blade, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Whitworth, Mrs. J. R. Hancock, Miss Edith Whitworth, Mrs. C. A. Mr. and Mrs. Z. Wolgamott, of near Fresno, had a most happy family reunion of all their family last Sunday. The members of the family are scattered, and this is the first time in twenty-six years that they have all been at home at the same time. The only son, Boon Wolgamott of Moline, Mo., Mrs. W. L. Hall and two sons of Fort Scott, Kan., and Mrs. Ed N. Paulding, daughter and son of Carthage, Mo., were all here, and they, together with another daughter, Mrs. H. H. Gibbons of K street, Fresno, and the daughter, Miss Jennie, who lives with the parents, comprise the family. A. P. Brooks and family of Fresno, who are closely related, were also present.

Mr. and Mrs. Wolgamott will have been married fifty years in November, and it was the intention to have celebrated the golden wedding at that time, but on account of the relatives from the East, who had to return home soon, the reunion was also to celebrate the anniversary. The presents were all gold. Mr. and Mrs. Wolgamott are both in their 70's, but well preserved, and when the 70 years young bride and groom cut their wedding cake the guests sang "Long live the bride, long live the groom, and may they celebrate their diamond wedding."

TAFT'S QUOTATION "THE FRESNO TEXT"

Raisin Center Becoming Famous as Place Where President Slipped Up on Bible.

Fresno is getting a lot of free advertising as the place where President Taft misquoted a Bible text, as witness this editorial in the New York Sun:

Mr. Taft has not Mr. Bryan's facility and presence in the pulpit, nor his cadences and unctuous style. But as a lay brother Mr. Taft already enjoys the experience. At Fresno, where he preached his third sermon on Sunday to an audience of thousands of all denominations in the court house square, he said:

"Until I began this trip it had not been my part in religious exercises to do other than form one of the audience, but I have found it impossible under the urgency of the ministers of the gospel, who occasionally desire a lay substitute, to keep from taking their place and attempting to preach a sermon."

As a lay substitute, Mr. Bryan has one decided advantage over the president: Mr. Bryan knows the Bible and quotes his texts right. Mr. Taft is vulnerable in this respect. His Fresno text, with an apology for giving it from memory, was: "He that conquereth himself is greater than he who taketh a city." This was wide of the mark, for the true quotation is, "He that is slow to anger is better than the mighty; and he that ruleth his spirit than he that taketh a city." The cloth will never pardon such looseness of rendering. Mr. Bryan has his texts pat, and they roll in organ tones from his lips.

If Mr. Taft likes preaching well enough to talk to his fellow citizens every Sunday on his "swing around the circle," he should dispense with texts or have a Bible handy. The difficulty might be solved with the aid of Captain Archibald Butt, who is always at his elbow.

GEO. M. COHAN'S "50 MILES FROM BOSTON" TONIGHT

Scene from George M. Cohan's rural musical play, "Fifty Miles from Boston," at the Barton tonight.

Geo. M. Cohan's sparkling musical comedy, under the direction of Cohan and Harris, will be seen at the Barton tonight.

The cast has been selected with great care, and will be headed by Grace King, who played "Sadie Woods," all last season in the eastern company, and both press and public have declared her the best that has ever played the part. Among the support are Edward O'Connor, who plays the part of "Harrigan," for the past two seasons with the Rogers Bros., Frank Bouman and Dan Bruce, both members of the original company, Richard Bartlett, James B. Gentry, Ben Bloom, Edwin Belden, Bobby Wagner, "the fat boy," Flossie Merrin, May Manning, Helen Young and Chester Young.

The scenes are laid in the little town of Brookfield, Mass., about fifty miles from Boston, and as Mr. Cohan has spent a number of summers there, he knows whereof he writes.

The play concerns itself with the trials and tribulations of the debonair little postmistress, who is also the village beauty, and who falls in love with the hero of the Harvard baseball club. The entire village immediately takes a hand in the game, and it looks for a while as if poor Cupid and the postmistress would come out losers. The usual rivalry for the postmistress' favors furnishes screamingly funny situations and brings in all the village characters from the shy little postmistress herself and the complacent owner of the solitary village department store, to the haughty heiress, who went to school in Boston.

Miss King as the postmistress has an absorbing love affair with the captain of the Harvard baseball club, and her song, "Jack and Jill," is said to be excellent.

Of course there is a chorus as no Cohan show would be complete without one. Among the many song hits are "Waltz With Me," "My Small Town Girl," "Boys Who Fought the Flames," "Ain't It Awful," and that gem "Harrigan," sung by Mr. O'Connor and full chorus.

"IN DREAMLAND."

Emmet Devoy, the author-actor, supported by a capable cast, in his most recent effort, "In Dreamland," will be the attraction at the Barton next Tuesday evening, October 26th. Mr. Devoy has succeeded in writing a play around his former one-act sketch that fairly scintillates with good natured satire and infectious laughter. W. G. Smythe, who is one of David Belasco's chief executives, under whose direction Mr. Devoy is appearing, has given the production his personal care and supervision, and the result is a series of scenes and stage settings that are variable triumphs even in this age of big productions. The seat sale opens next Saturday morning.

ERIE RAILWAY MAKES MONEY

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—The Erie railroad, saved by the aid of E. H. Harriman last year from defaulting on its maturing notes, issued its annual report today, showing a net income for the year of $2,-947,643. No successor to Mr. Harriman was elected.

Where You Belong, in Your Proper Position

Clothes help a man today as never before. If your clothes are cheap, your reputation suffers just that much. This no man can afford. Many brands of cheap clothes are on the market and offered to unwary buyers. You will learn, and we tell you plainly, that cheap clothes are too cheap for you to buy at any price.

Our clothes, STEIN-BLOCH made, are not cheap, yet they are the best "buy" in the world today.

They fit, they are stylish, and they are honestly and carefully made, out of high grade materials.

They have that air that puts you where you belong in your proper position. Their value is dollar for dollar.

"KINGS DAY" AT LOCAL FAIR TODAY

Many Visitors Expected from Hanford.

Much Talked-About Baby Show Is on at 3 P. M.

Today is "Kings County Day" at the county fair and a large delegation from Hanford and neighboring towns are expected to attend. The annual Kings county fair was omitted this year, Hanford having been dropped from the circuit. As a result, many exhibits from the southern county were sent to the local grounds. Many Hanford people have been exhibiting equally as much interest in the Fresno show as though the pavilion was situated in Hanford and horse races were being held there daily.

Another interesting harness program has been prepared for today. The complete list of entries will be found on the sporting page of this issue. Probably the most important feature of today and of the entire week will be the baby show. The youngsters will be judged at 3 o'clock. Each baby entered will be presented with a souvenir spoon, in which the compliments and best wishes of the fair association will be attached. Secretary R. A. Powell, Director E. Dickinson, Assistant Secretary Flora Kay and Superintendent Mrs. H. F. Wakefield have worked faithfully to make the baby show a success. They hope their efforts will be rewarded by the presence of over one hundred babies on the grounds this afternoon. Should ten [illegible] headed babies be entered, Director Dickinson will give $5 in cash to the youngster with the brightest spinach on his dome. However, the promise is made that there must be ten babies entered that have red hair.

BABY SHOW TODAY

The show is divided into fifteen classes and the complete list of premiums for the baby babies follows:

1. Prettiest girl baby under three months, silver fifteen pattern bottles, Seiler.
2. Handsomest boy baby under three months, picture and child's sweaters, South & Kenyon and Hopeless-Emmons.
3. Prettiest girl baby three months old and under eighteen months, silver set, Hollands'.
4. Handsomest boy baby three months old and under eighteen months, silver set, Kutner's.
5. Prettiest girl baby eighteen months old and under three years, child's tea set, Griff's.
6. Handsomest boy baby eighteen months old and under three years, nickel watch, Homan & Co.
7. Fattest baby girl, pair of shoes, Oliver & Jones.
8. Plumpest boy baby, picture, framed, C. T. Coutts.
9. Sweetest baby girl, silver cup, H. Warner & Co.
10. Cutest boy baby, rocking chair, Wormser Furniture Co.
11. Prettiest baby of Native Daughter, silver cup, Native Sons.
12. Handsomest twins under one year, two pair footees, Louis Einstein & Co.
13. Handsomest twins one year old, and under three years, two gold signet rings, D. L. McCarthy.

WOMAN RIDER WANTED.

Owing to the fact that but one horsewoman has made her appearance at the grounds to ride and the tremendous amount of interest the public is taking in the saddle ring warrants a woman's division, Secretary Powell announced yesterday that he is desirous of securing a female rider who will come to the fair grounds before if possible. A saddle horse will be furnished the rider if she will call up Main 418, which is the office telephone at the grounds.

Mrs. E. P. Hughes of Los Angeles has entered her horse, called saddle mate, "Jacqueline," a four year old that elicited a great deal of comment yesterday when the saddle horses were ridden along the track in front of the grandstand. Mrs. Hughes is a graceful horsewoman as well as an ardent admirer of thoroughbred horse flesh. However, one would be added to the saddle horse ring should another woman rider be secured.

RIBBONS PLACED ON PROUD ANIMALS

Judging of Horses and Cattle at Fair.

"Chicken Bob" Venn Makes Awards in the Fine Poultry Exhibition.

The third day of the Fresno County Fair has been designated as "Horse Day," and it was the greatest in attendance and general interest. Poultry judging began early in the forenoon by Judge "Chicken Bob" Venn. The poultry and pigeon at this fair are superior to any ever shown here before, and in consequence great interest has been manifested in this display.

CATTLE JUDGING.

The event of greatest interest to the stockmen yesterday was the cattle judging. Judge C. W. Rubel of San Luis Obispo performed this task. The placing of the ribbons yesterday forenoon came under division B, covering the great beef classes of Shorthorns and Herefords. The animals to compete in this class were required to be registered and to participate in all livestock parades.

The herds were made up as follows: Aged herd, a 3-year old bull and three females, young herd, a bull and three females, all one year old and under two; calf herd, a bull and three females, all less than one year old.

In class one, Shorthorns, for one, three year old bulls and over, first to C. J. Gilbert, no second. For 1908, two year old bulls and under three, same breed, first to Mrs. J. H. Glide of Sacramento, no second. In senior yearlings (between September 1, 1907, and September 1, 1908), first to Mrs. J. H. Glide; second to C. J. Gilbert.

In juniors (June 1, 1908, and September 1, 1909), first and second to R. M. Dunlap of Visalia. In senior calf (September 1, 1908, and September 1, 1909), first to Mrs. J. H. Glide; and second to J. E. Dickinson. In junior calf (January 1, 1909, and September 1, 1909), first and second to J. E. Dickinson, second to C. J. Gilbert of Fresno.

Shorthorn cows—Three years old and over, first to Mrs. J. H. Glide; no second. In two years old and under three, first to Mrs. J. H. Glide; second to J. E. Dickinson. In senior yearling heifers, first to J. E. Dickinson; no second. Juniors, first and second to Mrs. Glide; second to J. E. Dickinson. Senior calf, first to C. J. Gilbert; no second. Junior heifer calf, first to Mrs. J. H. Glide; second to J. E. Dickinson.

Champion Shorthorn bull, of any age; best cow, any age; best aged herd, best young herd, best calf herd, first in all to Mrs. J. H. Glide; no second.

Best champion four animals, either sex, of one sire, first to Mrs. J. H. Glide; second to C. J. Gilbert. Best two animals, either sex, by one sire, produce of one cow, bred and owned by the exhibitor, first, Mrs. J. H. Glide; second to C. J. Gilbert.

Hereford cattle—Best 1-year-old bull and best bull calf, first to Robin Lomas Cattle Company; no second. Best cows, three years old and over, two years old and over, and one year old; all to the Robin Lomas Cattle Company; no second.

Jersey cattle—Best 3-year-old bull, best 2-year-old bull and best bull calf, first to C. J. Gilbert; no second.

Cows—Best 3-year-old, honorable mention to James Corthees. Best 2-year-old, best yearling and best heifer calf, first to C. J. Gilbert.

Champion Jerseys—Best four animals, either sex, the get of one sire, first to C. J. Gilbert, no second. Best two animals of either sex, produce of one cow, first to C. J. Gilbert, no second.

HORSE JUDGING.

The judging of horses in the afternoon created equal interest with the cattle awards. Judge Rubel was in demand here again, showing equal qualification among this class of animals. Percheron stallions came first in front of the grand stand for judgment, the awards being as follows: Best stallion, four years old and over, first to the Elkhorn Horse Breeders' Association; second to C. A. Clark of Madera.

Percheron mares, best four year olds and over, first and second to J. T. Ragsdale of Merced; also less than one year old, first to Ragsdale.

Families—Best stallion, with not less than three of his colts, C. A. Clark of Madera.

Grade farm horses—Stallions, first to Hector Burness of Fresno, second to J. S. Osborn of Madera. Best three year olds and over, stallion, first to C. A. Clark of Madera; second to Frank Hart of Modesto, and third to John Price of Madera. Best two year old grade stallions, first to Andrew Jenson of Laton; second to Frank Hart of Modesto.

Best Clydesdale stallion, four years old and over, first to J. E. Dickinson; no second.

Judging in German coach horses, standard breeds, saddle animals, roadsters and special classes will be given their ribbons this forenoon.

POULTRY AWARDS.

Barred Plymouth Rocks—M. Bassett, Hanford, first pen, second cock, second and third cockerel, first, second and third hens, and second and third pullet. T. J. Simpson, Academy, first cock, second cockerel, first and second pullet.

White Plymouth Rocks—T. J. Simpson, first old pen, first young pen, first and second cockerel, first and second hen and third pullet. G. and C. C. Brack, Fresno, second young pen, second and third cockerel, first and second pullet.

White Wyandottes—R. A. Powell, first cock, first cockerel, C. E. Elmore, Fresno, first and second hen, first, second and third pullet. A. C. Wrenn, Fresno, third hen.

Silver Laced Wyandottes—W. F. Russell of Hanford, all awards in this class.

Golden Laced Wyandottes—H. G. Wallace, Kerman, all awards in this class.

Buff Wyandottes—Dr. C. Lusk Paddock, first old pen, first cock, first, second and third hens, Ben W. F. Hensell, third old pen, first young pen, second cock, first cockerel and first pullet.

Partridge Wyandottes—Lem Harp, all awards in this class.

Single Comb White Leghorns—John F. Forney, Kingsburg, first old pen, first young pen, first and second cock, first and third cockerel, first, second and third hen, and first and second pullet. J. Cecil of Hanford, second old pen and third cock. Mrs. Russell third second cockerel.

The poultry and pigeon judging will be concluded this forenoon.

J. L. KEARNEY SAVES "THE GIRL QUESTION"

Rest of Show Not Much Above Mediocrity.

Broilers Above Average in Looks and Eddie Foy Imitation Makes Hit.

It was rather a select audience that applauded the efforts of "The Girl Question" company last night at the Barton. Three musical comedies in as many nights running is almost too much of a dose of "early-early" even if they all happen to be of the first water. The two that have just come have not been above the average, but "The Girl Question" was redeemed from hopeless mediocrity by the saving presence of John L. Kearney. He is an erstwhile favorite who tickled the risibilities of theater goers in the "Mayor of Tokio" with marked success and can always be counted on for a good bunch of really clever fun.

He was not so happily cast last night as on former visits, although he made the character of Con Ryan a notable one, and got off a clever line of talk of the Kid Burns variety that was tremendously entertaining.

"The Girl Question" isn't as musical as comedy as some, but relies rather on its heart interest and plot development for the main appeal to the audience. The music is more of an incidental character.

It contains some original features and offers opportunity for some good work. Aside from Mr. Kearney the company was not particularly strong. There was a good looking group of "principles" rather above the average, and their Eddie Foy imitation was an immense hit. The chorus, as a whole, was rather lively and versatile and kept up the "business" with a good bit of snap with an occasional "boner" from an over anxious stage manager in the wings.

There was no singing voice in the company worthy of special mention. Miss Annie Hoffman had most of the singing to do. Her "Waltz Me Until I Am Dreamy" was one of the best of the song numbers and her imitation of Anna Held in her famous Kiss song was clever.

There seemed to be one of two new members being coached and that may have been the reason for cutting the song "When Eyes Like Yours Look Into Eyes Like Mine" one of the best songs in the production.

Mr. Kearney carries the burden of the play on his shoulders, which fortunately are fairly big and his work admirable in every respect. Helene McGowan did a very acceptable "pal" role to Mr. Kearney's "Con Ryan." Dorothy Maynard in the soubrette role did not have the voice for her songs, but she danced rather well and fitted in acceptably with the rest of the principals.

There was a good male quartet to add to the musical interest. But the music is as a whole far behind in tuefulness the music of "The Time, The Place and the Girl." Mr. Kearney is in fact the whole show in "The Girl Question" and the interest that centers about him is what makes the play go in its second season West.

FIVE COUPLES ARE LICENSED TO WED

Five applicant couples licenses to marry were issued yesterday. The marriageables are named:

YOUR KIDNEYS ACT FINE AND BLADDER MISERY VANISHES

A Few Doses Regulate Out-of-Order Kidneys Ending Backache.

If you take several doses of Pape's Diuretic, all backache and distress from out-of-order kidneys or bladder trouble will vanish, and you will feel fine.

Lame back, painful stitches, rheumatism, nervous headache, dizziness, irritability, sleeplessness, inflamed or swollen eyelids, worn-out, sick feeling and other symptoms of sluggish, inactive kidneys disappear.

Uncontrollable smarting, frequent urination (especially at night) and all bladder misery ends.

Feeling miserable and worn-out is needless, because this unusual preparation goes at once to the disordered kidneys, bladder and urinary system and distributes its cleansing, healing and vitalizing influence directly upon the organs and glands affected, and completely cures before you realize it.

The moment you suspect any kidney or urinary disorder or feel rheumatism pains, begin taking this harmless medicine, with the knowledge that there is no other remedy at any price, made anywhere else in the world, which will effect so thorough and prompt a cure as a fifty-cent treatment of Pape's Diuretic, which any drug store can supply.

Your physician, pharmacist, banker or any mercantile agency will tell you that Pape, Thompson & Pape, of Cincinnati, is a large and responsible medicine concern, thoroughly worthy of your confidence.

Only curative results can come from taking Pape's Diuretic, and a few days' treatment means clean, active, healthy kidneys, bladder and urinary organs—and no backache.

The Strongest Guarantee

Ever put on a Wood Stove is behind

Cole's Air Tight!!

These are the reasons we took on this stove and the reasons we recommend it to you.

1. It is guaranteed to remain air tight as long as used. This is positive assurance of permanent satisfaction, for a non-air tight wood stove is as useless as a watch without a main spring.
2. It is a perfect radiator of heat, giving off all the heat produced by the fire. The heat from burning a single newspaper can be felt across a room.
3. It holds fire over night with light wood, cobs or trash. The fire is never out—and by simply putting in a little fresh fuel in the morning, you can heat up a room from zero to 80 degrees in five minutes' time.
4. It sells at a reasonable price—$3 up and every size stove is covered by the guaranty.
5. It burns wood and any kind of lighter fuel, cobs, rubbish, etc.
6. Its features are all patented and have been widely imitated but never duplicated. This would-be theft of the desirable points is so strong a testimonial in favor of Cole's Original Air Tight Wood Stove as to have been a deciding point in our big purchase.
7. Made by one of the greatest stove concerns on earth, one whose guaranty is as good as this government's.

DIDN'T MAKE UP WIFE SUES AGAIN

Mrs. Lane Charges Fraud in Reconciliation.

Damage Case Against Santa Fe on Trial; Father and Son on Same Jury.

A complaint filed yesterday by Mrs. Lenra Lane of Burbank gives a reason in reconciliation advances made by him why she consented to dismissals of actions against her husband, A. H. Lane, the K street saloonkeeper. He had sued her for divorce on the ground of desertion and she returned with a cross complaint embracing sensational charges of refined cruelty. Thereafter she brought suit to cancel a deed by her to him on the ground of fraud. Both actions were in turn dismissed to pave the way for a reconciliation.

Evidently the [illegible] overtures, whether real or pretended, have come to naught, for yesterday came the filing from Los Angeles papers in which several of her previous causes of action are reviewed and continued in a new action for separate maintenance without divorce.

The Lanes were married at Berwick in June, 1907, and she avers that for more than one year he has wholly failed to provide her with the necessaries of life, though a strong, healthy man and abundantly able to work, and his wilful neglect has not been caused by any act, word or speech or provocation on her part. Lane, she says, is in the retail liquor business here and derives a monthly profit of $250. That is the first cause of complaint. The second is wilful desertion and abandonment on November 1, 1907.

As a third cause of action is the recital that on March 12th, last, there was executed between them a document purporting to forever settle their respective property rights, whereas in fact, this document purported to take from her all future right of alimony and support in consideration of the grant by him to her of his interest in lots in Tulare county, and was obtained through false and fraudulent representations, concealment, deceit and his overpowering mentality and powers of persuasion.

It is narrated how on the day of the execution of the document there was pending in this county his action for divorce on the ground of desertion. He went from Fresno to Los Angeles to visit his father and ostensibly effect reconciliation with the wife.

"He became apparently reconciled to his wife at said time and place," says the complaint, "and showed much affection toward her and her children. He said to plaintiff that he would drop his divorce against her and they would soon live together again as husband and wife, but that he did not want her and her relatives to appear in Fresno city at the time set for the trial of the said divorce action, as his friends would chide him about its outcome, and that for appearances and for the sake of vindication, he thought it better that he should attend the trial alone, to which plan the plaintiff gladly assented, thinking that her husband was acting in good faith."

The Lanes visited on that day her attorney defending the divorce action, to have matters connected with the case closed up, but after having arranged to drop the case, he took her to his lawyer and there obtained the document fraudulently.

She stated that he was ready to deed lots to her in Tulare county, and they went to Len Claiborne's office and Lane asked him to draw the deed, at the same time presenting Claiborne a paper which the latter read and then stated that he would dictate the deed to his stenographer, leaving then the room in which the Lanes were seated. Shortly after, he returned with a document, and without offering her opportunity to read it and without reading it aloud, he requested her to sign it, and she did. Later the discovery was made that the document is not a deed, but a full settlement of all property rights following execution of supposed deed.

Upon signature, she was requested by Claiborne to mail it at once for recording to Tulare county, and she prepared it for mailing and would have posted it without further examining it, but that an aunt looked over the document and exposed its fraudulent character. The lots deeded are, in fact, of little value and upon discovery of the deceit she tendered deed reconveying title to the property named in the document and demanded that she be restored to her rights, but he has declined to do so.

Mrs. Lane asked for judgment.

That he be required to produce in court the original of the supposed deed to be dealt with according to the court judgment, that the original and duplicate be cancelled, that she be restored to her marital rights respecting the community property, that she be granted separate support and he be compelled to maintain her until otherwise directed, and that he pay $75 a month as a reasonable separate support and maintenance.

FATHER AND SON ON JURY.

It so happens that father and son are on the jury before Judge Church trying the case of Widow Ella Agnes McGuire suing the Santa Fe railroad for $30,000 damages for the accidental killing of her husband at the 9th of last November. The related jurors are J. P. Johnson of Easton, the father, and William Johnson of Lone Star, the son.

The jury trying the case consists of A. Lockard, William Dunlap, P. V. Chase, J. A. Rice, J. P. Johnson, W. T. Stutzman, Pat Clasby, E. R. W. Bennett, Nels Nelson, O. C. Lane, H. E. Enloe and William Johnson. The jury was accepted after three other examined talesmen were examined and excused, namely, F. W. Kerkser, V. J. Morgan and P. H. Monahan.

Locomotive Engineer R. C. McGuire was hurt at night at Bixler station in Contra Costa county while coupling tender to a freight train, being squeezed to death by another engine in charge of Robert V. Rich backing in and upon McGuire's engine. McGuire was in charge of a helper engine that had been sent to assist in drawing Rich's freight train up the grade at Bixler. The switching had been done on the Y, but when attempt was made to couple tender and freight train the coupler would not fasten and after brakeman and conductor had vainly attempted it, McGuire stepped off his engine and stood between tender and cars and attempted to adjust the draw bar so as to close the coupler.

It was while in this act that Rich's engine backed down upon the other engine and the fatal crushing came about. There is evidence that McGuire stood between the two couplers instead of in the space between tender and car on the side of the couplers, that he left his engine with the brakes open after starting her a few feet after the coupling failures of conductor and brakeman. These facts are being taken advantage of by the railroad company to base the plea that the engineer contributed in negligence to his own death.

On the other hand, it is asserted in proof that Rich's engine backed on the main track from the watering tank without giving any warning signal, that it is according to the rule for an engineer to step down from his engine to make any necessary repair of the machinery, that it is not against the rule to leave an engine unbraked when the halt is only for a few moments and, anyhow, the whole proceeding on the night in question was under a hurry because a passenger train was due shortly, the main track had to be cleared and the helper engine was under orders to clear the track between passenger train times.

The young widow is attended in court by father and mother and prattling baby girl of five years. She sues in her own behalf and that of the child for $30,000 damages and as a basis on which to estimate damages proof has been given that McGuire was in perfect health, that a locomotive engineer's average earnings are from $160 to $165 a month and that, according to insurance mortuary figures, he being 29 years of age, he should have lived at least 33 years longer.

Attorneys M. H. Harris and L. B. Hayhurst appear in the case for the widow and child, and Attorneys H. Van Cott and E. W. Camp of Los Angeles and S. L. Carter of this city for the railroad company.

DESERTED FOR SIX YEARS.

Marie E. Hutszler was divorced by Judge Church from Samuel F. Hutszler on the latter's default. They were married in Lincoln, Mo., in November, 1899, and more than six years ago he deserted her and she returned to her mother, Mrs. Laura Young, who was a witness yesterday in the divorce trial. Hutszler is a miner and when last heard from was on the North Fork on the San Joaquin river. The wife testified that in the last six years he contributed to the support of their child, two dresses and one pair of shoes.

HALED INTO COURT.

Attorney D. A. Cashin has made affidavit to have a judgment debtor examined in the suit of J. A. T. Peterson against the California Grape Growers' Association. Peterson recovered in June judgment for $500 and execution was returned wholly unsatisfied. Cashin says W. E. Street of Selma is indebted to the judgment debtor for $500. Judge Church has ordered him to appear in court on November 1 to answer concerning any property of the judgment debtor in his possession.

VISALIA MEETING ON HORTICULTURE

Counties Committee at Twelfth Semi-Annual Meeting Plans Interesting Session at Visalia.

That the theme, "Horticulture in California," justifies the hope and expectation of the California Promotion committee that the twelfth semi-annual meeting of its counties committee will be the largest of these state gatherings yet held is the point made by the committee in its weekly letter to the commercial bodies. There is not a county in California, believes the committee, that cannot gain something by having representatives present to participate in the counties committee's deliberations. On the program will be men whose life work has been the investigation and practical pursuit of the fruit industry, men who have studied the bearing of California conditions in relation to successful horticulture.

In connection with its sunshine and its flowers California's golden harvest of fruit is its best known product and has brought to the state a prosperity that has justified the continuation of the reference to it as the Golden State. The theme of the Visalia meeting follows the trend of subjects discussed at former meetings, each of which has been devoted to a consideration of something of large moment to California as a whole. Just as the theme has been state-wide in its scope so the representation and discussion have been derived from all parts of the commonwealth.

Mention is made in the letter that the good time of the visiting delegates will be well provided for, as has always been the case, the arrangements of this feature being in the hands of the Visalia Board of Trade and Tulare County Board of Trade. Meetings of the counties committees have been held at Sacramento, San Jose, Pasadena, Santa Barbara, Napa, San Diego, Petaluma, Fresno, Santa Cruz, Los Angeles and Del Monte.

ONLY STONE HOUSE IN CITY OF FRESNO

Doyle Bros., the marble men and stone cutters, are having constructed an office building on their premises opposite the public library. The structure will be unique as the only stone building in the city and possibly in the county. It will be 12x14 in size and is being constructed of the granite and marble stones that were damaged or cracked in the big fire which also destroyed the Hill stables and grain barn. A structure such as being put up would cost over $3000 in the construction were the stone originally quarried for it.

DWELLING DESTROYED.

Fire at an early hour yesterday morning destroyed a small dwelling at 401 E street, owned by M. Hagopian and occupied by a family named Jacobson. It is supposed that the flames started by the explosion of a lamp, several of which were burning at the time. The house was a total loss.

Don't Have Sick Fowls

We Have a Separate Remedy For Each Ailment

There is no Profit or Pleasure in Raising Unhealthy Chickens

At this time of year fowls are unfortunately susceptible to ailments peculiar to themselves. With even the best of care and attention disease will often attack a yard of fowls, and unless checked in time, the poultry man will see his vision of profits vanish or perhaps his entire flock exterminated.

Conkey Has Made a Life Study of Chicken Diseases

And their cures and has formulated a number of remedies that have proven by experience to be the best ever put on the market. Consult our poultryman about the disease and he will prescribe the remedy.

TAX COLLECTIONS SHOWING UP WELL

Cashier Smith of the tax collector's office says there is no evidence of hard times so far as tax payments are concerned. Tax collections began on the 11th and the total up to yesterday afternoon was $10,959.26. Last year for the month of October and for the settlement with the county treasurer the total was approximately $30,000. Inasmuch as there are yet eight collection days this month, the reported total to date this year is considered a good showing under all the circumstances.

NOW ON STRIKE

Millions of Stomachs Refuse to do Their Work Properly.

All over this broad land millions of stomach owners are being held in humiliating subjection just because they are so stubborn that they will not accept a fair, square and broad-minded offer.

Life is short for all of us; it will be shorter for those who let their stomachs go from bad to worse.

The San Joaquin Drug Company has a famous prescription called Mi-o-na, and they believe so thoroughly in its remarkable curative power that they say to every owner of a distressed stomach that they will guarantee Mi-o-na tablets to cure acute or chronic indigestion and all stomach ailments or money back, and the price is only 50 cents a box.

And still there are stubborn people right in Fresno who won't accept this offer, but continue to suffer from gas on stomach, belching of sour food, stomach pains, foul breath, dizziness, biliousness and headaches just because—just because, that's all; there is no other reason.

Mi-o-na tablets stop dyspeptic agony in five minutes; they cure obstinate cases of indigestion and turn the old stomach into a new one in a few weeks—or money back.

Nature's Cure For Rheumatism

"Oh! the grinding, nerve-rasping pain! The tender, aching muscles, the swollen, burning joints, the stiffness, the soreness. Oh, rheumatism, ye thousand devils, how gladly would I part with you!" And he swallows a drug, which the devils like, and the rheumatism marks him for its own. He becomes a chronic drug shop after a while and you can tell him by the knots on his hands.

When you feel that grinding pain in your joints you can appreciate the feelings of a man burned at the stake or having his bones broken and twisted on the rack. It is merciless, sleep destroying, agonizing. It lets up at times for an hour or two, only to turn loose again more pitilessly than ever. It leaves one joint and moves to another with doubled intensity.

It eats up all your vitality, exhausts your patience, and unless you conquer it by using electricity, which is the only remedy on earth that will cure it, it may reduce you to a chronic rheumatic cripple, with joints enlarged, twisted and deformed, and strength enough only to limp around.

Rheumatism gives many warnings, and it is easy to cure if you begin in time. When you feel the first stiffness in your knee joints, shoulders or back, if you attack it then you can easily drive it out of your body. But if you let these "come and go" pains come often they will settle down and stay with you. Cure them at first and you will be saved much needless suffering.

You can cure rheumatism by removing the cause. Now you know that the cause is in the failure of the kidneys to filter the blood. The kidneys are weak. They need strength and they get that only from Electro-Vigor. You could take all the drugs that were ever made and they would not give your kidneys an ounce of strength.

Electro-Vigor is a scientific body battery, which pumps a stream of electric life into your nerves and vitals while you sleep. It dissolves the uric acid in the blood and drives it through the circulation back to the kidneys, which, by the help of Electro-Vigor, are enabled to cleanse the blood of its poison and free the system forever from rheumatism.

Electro-Vigor is not an electric belt. It never needs charging, for it makes its own power continuously.

No pain can exist in a body charged with electric life. You can have no rheumatism, no weakness, no inactive parts, because the life generated by this grand force gives health and strength to every organ.

Mr. F. W. Niemann, 217 East st., San Francisco, says: "Your Electro-Vigor has cured me of rheumatism, cramps and general debility, and none of these troubles have returned since I stopped the treatment."

CONTROL OF CROP WILL START SALES

Consolidated Says 2c Offer Will Aid Industry.

Gartenlaub Says 1909 Crop Must Be Removed for Next Year's.

Editor Republican: Your editorial in Monday's paper in relation to the offer made by the United States Consolidated Seeded Raisin Company calls for a reply. The name High Five is a misnomer, as the United States Consolidated Company consists of the ten largest packers controlling seeders in the business. Better call it the High Ten. For the benefit of the growers we give you the names:

California Fruit Canners' Association
J. K. Armsby Company
Griffin-Skelley Company.
Madison & Bonner.
J. S. Inderrieden Company
Fresno Home Packing Company.
Guggenheim and Company.
Rosenberg Bros. Company.
Castle Bros.
Phoenix Packing Company

You say that it is up to us to make it evident that the offer is bona fide and not an attempt to hold up the market on futures.

We do not know exactly what you mean by holding up the market on futures. If you mean that the packers have sold a lot of goods for future delivery, then it would be of interest to the packers to see the market decline. If you mean that it is an attempt to strengthen the market to protect the price on the goods that the packers have bought but not sold, then why not make the price 2 1-2c instead of 2c? Besides, the growers certainly know that the packers have not been buying beyond their immediate wants. If any packer is long any great quantity we do not know it, and if this deal goes through every member of the company has agreed to turn over the goods he owns at 2c.

The members of the Consolidated, realizing the deplorable condition of the raisin industry, have been discussing the situation for some time. We all agree that unless the goods on hand can be concentrated there is no immediate help for the raisin market. We are buying, and can buy today, all the raisins we need at 1 3-4c and 30 days from now will see the price lower. Even at these criminally low prices, business is almost at a standstill. If this crop is not disposed of, we will have next fall two crops to sell instead of one. Can you picture the result?

Under present conditions, business for the season is practically over. Some consignments have already been made, more will follow, and demoralization will result.

If, however, we can get control of a large part of the crop, we believe that we can induce the jobbers to buy. As soon as they know that the crop will not be sacrificed, they probably will push business. We do not expect to raise prices, but will use every effort to get the goods moved early and consumed before another crop comes in.

There is no use of our trying to go ahead with less than 20,000 tons. This is little enough, considering the size of the carry-over. We know that 2c is a low price, but it is better than 1 1-2c or 1 3-4c, and, what is more, the situation will be cleared up. The growers have more than this crop at stake. Land values are something, and if they want a decent price for next year's crop, they must help to get this one out of the way. We can probably sell considerable goods in November and December at a fixed price is assured, but unless we can get 20,000 tons we do not [illegible] go ahead.

We hoped that the growers would get together. We have never stood at association or pool or company, or anything that would control the goods. We have always stood with the association. We do so yet, but controlling next year's crop won't be of any use unless this one is controlled as well and disposed of. We can sell one year's crop in one year, but we cannot sell two. Suppose the bulk of this crop is carried until early fall, won't it take the place of new goods, as it did this year? The old crop out of the way leaves the Tichenor Company or any other in a position to get decent prices next year.

We have offered 2c. Can any grower see a chance to get more under present conditions? Sultanas have sold as low as 1 1-4c.

We have made a clean-cut proposition, no acreage or percentage basis, but a definite quantity of 20,000 tons. We are willing to take all the more the better, for next year. If the growers are looking to the future, they should give this offer proper consideration. Every day is worth real money: people do not eat double the quantity of raisins because a day has been missed.

You say that our offer puts a definite value on the crop. It does not, unless we get 20,000 tons, for unless this quantity is signed up by November 1st, our offer is withdrawn, and unless someone else makes a similar offer we are again in the same position that we are in today.

Now as to our good faith. Before making this offer it was necessary to make financial arrangements to secure the necessary money to swing the deal. This was done, and your editor had our permission to see the First National Bank, Farmers' National Bank and Wells Fargo Nevada National Bank. Further than this, this company delegated Mr. Alex Goldstein to go to Fresno to see Mr. Tichenor or Mr. Giffen and have the proposition put up to the growers at the meeting held October 9th. Mr. Goldstein did make the proposition to Mr. Giffen, only he made the quantity 25,000 tons, but, for some good reason, no doubt, it was not presented.

It is too bad that any offer made by us should be slurred at. We do not know of any transactions that we have had with the growers, that call for censure. We have always given our every aid in assisting the formation of associations, and we believe that without our help none would ever have been formed. If the growers do not get a good price, it is their fault, but we are blamed for it. If on the other hand, they realize high prices, we are not given credit for it.

That no job is intended can easily be seen by our making the time limit November 1st. To boost the market for two weeks, and at only 2c per pound, does not savor much of jobbery. That deliveries are not wanted until November 5th shows that no shortage exists among the packers.

It is now up to the growers.

JAPANESE BANK ORDERED CLOSED

Bank Superintendent to Investigate.

C. Allison Telfer in Temporary Charge; Slight Run on Kamikawa Bank.

"Closed by order of and in charge of superintendent of banking."

The foregoing notice placed upon the glass panel of one of the doors of the Industrial Bank, a local Japanese institution, caused considerable of a flurry yesterday among the local resident subjects of the Mikado. The notice in effect means just what it says that the bank has been closed pending an investigation. The order upon which the action was taken came from State Superintendent of Banks Alden Anderson and C. Allison Telfer of this city was placed in temporary charge. The latter expects that further instructions will be received today.

"So far as I know," said Telfer last night, "the condition of the local banks is all right. Its closing was simply due to the fact that the Japanese-American bank in San Francisco recently found itself involved in difficulties. After an investigation is made it is very probable that the depositors will all receive their money in full."

The local bank was capitalized for $50,000. B. Okonogi is its president and K. Mizuno cashier. The directors are H. Hirakawa, M. Matsumoto, Y. Heyano, H. Kitahama, S. Nakasugi and R. Okusi. The institution occupies the lower floor of an excellent modern building of pressed brick at the corner of Tulare and F streets.

As a result of the closing of the Industrial Bank the Kamikawa Bros.' Bank, located on the corner of G and Kern streets, suffered yesterday to some extent. The depositors of the first named institution are nearly all Japanese, and the news that the banking house had closed its doors spread at a fast rate. This led to general alarm among the depositors of Kamikawa Bros., and a small sized run on their place was soon on. When the depositors discovered, however, that they had no difficulty in securing their money they gradually quieted down, and at the time the bank closed last evening things had resumed their normal condition.

"The closing of the Industrial Bank does not affect us in the least," said one of the officials of the Kamikawa Bank last night. "Ours is an entirely separate institution and we can pay dollar for dollar at any time we may be called upon to do so. Our depositors are mostly persons who trade at our store."

The official incidentally stated that the run earlier in the day on the bank amounted to very little, and that while it was true some of the depositors had withdrawn their money the sums were all small.

The following Associated Press dispatch received from San Francisco last night gives the reason for the closing of the bank:

"Alden Anderson, state superintendent of banks, today closed the Industrial Bank, a Japanese bank at Fresno, Cal. The bank has $52,000 on deposit and a reserve of $26,000. Deficiency in cash reserve and lack of securities for loans were given as the cause for closing the bank.

"Fourteen thousand dollars of the bank's funds are on deposit with the Japanese-American Bank of this city, which was closed Monday."

NEWS OF EVENTS IN REALM OF SPORT

Jeffries Will Arrive In New York Tonight

Sends Wireless to Associated Press; Coffroth Is After the Mill.

ON BOARD STEAMER LUSITANIA, At Sea, Oct. 20. (By Wireless via Halifax, N. S.)—To the Associated Press, New York.

"I am feeling fine and shall be glad to get home. I can say nothing definite before reaching America. I expect my fight with Johnson to take place before a responsible club offering the largest purse.

(Signed.) "James J. Jeffries."

The foregoing wireless message came from Jeffries tonight. He will reach New York on the Lusitania late Thursday night or early Friday morning. Jeffries is returning from the continent after taking the waters at Carlsbad, and a brief course of preliminary training at Neuilly, near Paris.

His arrival at New York is awaited with a great deal of interest in sporting circles and it is confidently believed that the details of a match with Jack Johnson will be arranged within the next few days.

Tuesday night of next week has been set for a meeting between Jeffries, his manager, Sam Berger; George Little, manager of Johnson, and James Coffroth, the promoter. Coffroth, it is said, will come prepared to make an offer of a large purse for the fight to take place in San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 20.—James W. Coffroth, promoter of many big fights in this city, left tonight for New York to meet James J. Jeffries and to make a bid for a fight between the former champion and Jack Johnson, the contest to be held here.

"I will offer Jeffries either a guaranteed purse or one made up on the percentage basis," said Coffroth. "I intend to make my offer as tempting as possible and I believe that my chances for landing the match are very good. Of course there will be some lively bidding for the attraction, but in view of the big houses that San Francisco has always pulled to big fights, I do not see how any one can offer more than I."

While in New York Coffroth will have a number of other propositions under consideration, including a match between Stanley Ketchel and Sam Langford and one between the winner of the Frayne-Powell contest and Battling Nelson.

Fight Gossip

(By W. W. Naughton of Portola town.)

They are still talking of the Johnson tumble in last Saturday's fight, and the query, "Did he fall or was he punched?" is in a fair way of becoming as much of a prize conundrum as the identity of the party who discovered the pole.

Critics are taking sides on the issue, and hard feelings are being engendered. Those who think the knockdown bogus are in the majority, but some of the others—notably those who are declaiming against what they consider an attempt to rob Ketchel of a little credit where his credits were lamentably few—make up in vehemence what they lack in numbers.

Personally, I see no reason for doubting the impression which formed in my mind at the time. I feel that the Johnson fall was as stagey and unreal as the dagger thrust with which Othello ended his existence after throttling Desdemona. I might go further and say I am thankful it was no worse, and this involves an explanation. When I saw Johnson drop clumsily with a grin on his face, the thought seized me that he was going to stay down and be counted out. That would have been the swindle of the century as far as the prize ring is concerned, and it was a big relief when he sprang up again and settled Ketchel with a couple of fierce punches.

To some it may seem like opening old sores to be harping on this thing, but around town the theme is as fresh as paint. Some of those who are close to Johnson, while not admitting that he acted the buffoon for the sake of adding variety to the picture, are inclined to hold that whatever the champion may have done in the way of "asides" was warranted as long as he kept in view that he was a lop-sided favorite and protected the money of those who backed him.

HURRY THE JEFFRIES BOUT.

In substantiation of this claim it is recalled that Ike Weir, the "Belfast Spider," and a world's featherweight champion in the old years, used to introduce all kinds of funny stunts into his milling. At times Weir would stare an opponent across the ring with outlandish feinting and then deliberately bend down and tighten his shoe-laces. Griffo, the phenomenal Australian, was another champion who was a regular "cutup" so far as pranks were concerned, but Griffo kept his eye on the main chance for all his clownish tricks.

Leaving unanswered the question as to whether Johnson is entitled to work a few digressions into his winning fights in the manner of other celebrities who have had their day, the moral of the Johnson-Ketchel fight seems to be that the day of reckoning between Johnson and Jeffries should be hurried. The negro so far outclasses all the other heavyweights he has been sent against, or is likely to be sent against, that it must be hard work for him to hold himself back sufficiently to make the exhibitions interesting. Such being the case, it is little use expecting satisfactory results from any bouts that Johnson may engage in before he stands toe to toe with big Jeffries.

And in the meantime sports of different shades of opinion in regard to the recent knockdown will seize the first opportunity of refreshing their ideas by a glimpse of the Johnson-Ketchel pictures. Then the same old contentions will continue until some other prize ring event monopolizes interest. As a matter of fact, it looks as though the argument over the knockdown will prove one of the best advertisements the pictures ever had.

Record Crowd Views Opening Card of Races

Largest Attendance in Ten Years; Adam G. Steps to Form.

A record crowd witnessed the trotting, pacing and running races at the county fair grounds yesterday afternoon. It was the largest assemblage in ten years, fully 5000 wending their way to the scene of the third annual show and the opening program of horse racing.

Many of the downtown business houses closed their doors at noon and the afternoon was virtually a half holiday. The directors had set aside yesterday as "Fresno Day," and it was a jolly carnival throng that packed the grand stand to overflowing and made business good along the Paseo. The pavilion, with its many exhibits in place for the first time, was visited from early morn till late at night.

The racing card was a splendid one, seven events being run off in rapid succession. No long waits were encountered between heats, while horses were exhibited on the track and "Happy Jack and his happy family" pleased the spectators with clever rope work, daring riding and Walter Robinson's futile attempt to stick on a big black bull for ten seconds.

Many followers of the trotting game were on hand to witness the performance of Adam G, the converted pacer owned by D. L. Bachant of Fresno. "Adam" was entered on the Western Trotting Circuit this season and cleaned up about $3000 for his owner. His pacing was the sensation of the Pacific coast, as a year ago the horse was doing livery service in a local stable. Bachant traded for him and started the trim little animal for the first time last summer. Five years previous Adam failed to do anything as a green trotter.

After his long rest, Bachant brought the horse out as a pacer. He stepped a mile in 2:07 1-4 on the local track, and in Salem, Ore., did even better. Yesterday the bay gelding won the free-for-all pace in straight heats, stepping the first mile in 2:10 1-4 and the second in 2:10 flat.

He didn't look the part of a winner in either heat yesterday. He was unable to score with any speed at all, and after lagging in the rear several times, Starter Ed R. Smith sent the field, consisting of Lady R., Miss Idaho and Adam G. away to a very poor start for Bachant's horse. Adam trailed to the quarter post before he struck his stride. Then, with the steadiness of a clock, he picked up the lost ground on the back stretch, reached the leader, Lady R., on the far turn, and, taking the outside, flashed under the wire a winner by one length each heat.

Radium Way was a bad actor in the free-for-all, and was withdrawn before the first heat. In the 2:14 pace David St. Clair, driven by "Lucky" Bachant, grabbed first money in 2:15 1-4 and 2:14. Cole Direct was second and My Way third. St. Clair won both heats in a driving finish, barely nosing out Cole Direct, who did her best but was not equal to the occasion. David St. Clair's burst of speed smothered the black gelding. My Way broke badly in the stretch after setting the pace for a half mile.

The match race between Wahtoka and Cora Belle, trotters, was won by the former. The Allen horse was piloted by J. W. Zibbell, who lost the first heat by a narrow margin through a bad break on the back stretch, but captured the next two by ten lengths. Clarke's entry was hopelessly outclassed in the second and third heats.

The final heat was stepped in 2:28, which gives the Allen trotter a mark of under thirty, something that the owner has been striving to attain for many months. The races against time resulted in each of the entries setting a new mark. Voyageer was sent around the track accompanied by a pacer. Trix Adrian, a green 2-year-old, made the circuit without the semblance of a break.

TY COBB TAKES TO AUTO RACING

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—Ty Cobb, the heavy hitting batsman of the American League Baseball club of Detroit, is to drive an automobile in the Good Roads tour from New York to Atlanta, which starts from this city next Monday evening. Cobb is to drive a car which made 20,000 miles in 100 consecutive days when Harry Knipper of Detroit drove it in a contest. Knipper also drove the same car from Denver to Mexico in the "flag to flag route," making the trip over mountains, deserts, plains and sandy wastes in remarkable time.

In the coming tour Cobb will drive the car over 1050 miles, carrying a mechanician and two passengers, into his old home at Atlanta, where a great reception awaits him for his baseball playing.

WHITE SOX TO HAVE DUFFY AS LEADER

CHICAGO, Oct. 21.—Charles Comiskey, president of the baseball club of the American League, announced today the appointment of Hugh Duffy, the manager of the Providence, R. I. team, as manager of the local club.

HANFORD HI AT VISALIA SUNDAY

VISALIA, Oct. 20.—The Hanford and Visalia High schools will meet for the first league game here Saturday. As each was beaten by Fresno High by about the same score, they appear to be evenly matched and a hard struggle for supremacy is anticipated.

FRENCH RACES.

PARIS, Oct. 21.—The Prix Wieky, run at Tremblay today, was won by T. P. Thorne "Alby."

SANTA BARBARA CITIZENS MISSING

SANTA BARBARA, Cal., Oct. 20.—Two prominent citizens of this county are mysteriously missing. Friends have offered $100 reward for news that will locate T. C. Saunders. He is over 70 years of age. Saunders rose from the breakfast table at his home Saturday, walked out of the house and has not been seen by the family since.

Amazon H. Brown is also missing. He went to San Francisco a week ago Saturday and since his departure, his wife has had no word from him. Theodore Reichert, formerly surveyor general of California, a close friend of Brown, is leading the search for him in San Francisco.

LAND REGISTRATION.

ABERDEEN, S. D., Oct. 20.—All records for registration crowds were broken today in the opening of the Cheyenne River and Standing Rock Indian lands, when 6,265 persons appeared before the notaries at the six points and filed application. This is the final week of the registration. The total now is 62,226.

YALE CAPTAIN; PLAYERS PRACTICING FOR HARD GAMES TO COME LATER

In many respects the past two weeks of football practice at New Haven, Conn., were the most encouraging that the players have put in on the Yale gridiron. They were marked by the return of Captain Coy, who has been on the side lines in citizen's clothes since he joined his teammates, and also by the return of all the other veterans. The training has gone off with more snap, and the practice has begun to take on a more orderly system which has taken away the discouraging features of the first two weeks of the training. Old Eli's quarterback system is manifestly unsolved, and neither Andrus nor Captain Coy has had enough work to be able to play at his best. Until the two missing stars are once more in the regular lineup, the progress of the eleven must necessarily be slower than usual. Philbin, Murphy and Messenger form a strong trio of halfbacks, and if Coy were only in the lineup between two of them and could practice steadily in his position, Yale would have the strongest field on the gridiron today. Just at present the team seems to be suffering from its annual attack of fumbling, a trouble that has frequently broken out at New Haven in previous years about the time of the West Point game. All in all, there appears to be much latent power in the Yale eleven, although at present it is far from assembled into a team unit. With the finding of the right man for the quarterback place and with Captain Coy and Andrus in their old-time form, the real Yale "get together" team work should develop quickly, and the 1909 eleven assert itself as one of the best of Yale's good teams. Upper illustration shows men practicing punting and Walter Camp, Jr., kicking. Lower picture shows Yale back line at signal practice.

Jimmy Durham Fails To Stop the Beavers

Former Stockton Heaver Goes to Pieces in Sixth Round.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 20.—Portland retaliated on San Francisco today, taking the second game of the series, 5 to 0, the score by which the Northerners suffered yesterday. Durham went to pieces in the sixth inning and Eastley relieved him, but met with no better fate. Harkness allowed the San Franciscans to gather but one hit, Miller driving out a safe one in the second. Score:

LATONIA RACES.

LATONIA, Oct. 20.—Favorites took three of the races at Latonia today. A continuous rain spoiled a good card, only one race proving close enough to be interesting. This was the fourth event. Results:

First race, five furlongs: Eleanor Robson, 2 to 5, won; Carondolet, 4 1-2 to 1, second; Neath, 50 to 1, third. Time, 1:02 3-5.

Second race, six furlongs: Pirate Diana, 5 to 2, won; El Dorado, 5 to 2, second; W. T. Kemper, 25 to 1, third. Time, 1:17 1-5.

Third race, mile and one-eighth: Beaucoup, 2 to 1, won; The Squire, 8 to 5, second; Sir Cleges, 4 to 1, third. Time, 1:54 2-5.

Fourth race, six furlongs: Pretend, 9 to 20, won; St. Dunstan, 7 to 2, second; Doll Carr, 9 to 2, third. Time, 1:14 1-5.

Zamlock's Boot Gives Game To Hogan's Villagers

Willett's Hurling in the Pinches Too Much for Senators.

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 20.—Vernon's strength on the mound was too much for Sacramento again today, especially when coupled with an error in right field by Zamlock, who has just returned to the game. Willett pitched good ball and was strong in the pinches. In the sixth after the locals had taken a lead of one run, McKay, Martinke and Brashear hit one, eight field successively and Zamlock let the last one through, four for three bases, losing the game. AMATEUR BASEBALL

Manager Frisch of the Fresno Sharks would like to get a crack at the Conejo team, which he says has turned him down when he wrote for games. Parlier has never refused the Sharks a game, as was unintentionally stated in these columns yesterday morning. Frisch would like to try conclusions with the Parlier aggregation, notwithstanding.

Reidy Forfeits Game To Dillon's Club

Oakland Leader Becomes Obstreperous With Bad Result.

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 20.—Because Manager Reidy of the Oakland team failed to leave the grounds within three minutes after being ordered to do so by Umpire McGreevy today, the game was declared forfeited to Los Angeles, 9 to 0. This was at the beginning of the fourth inning. Umpire McGreevy claimed that Reidy was saying unpleasant things to him from the bench. No runs had been made up to the time the incident occurred, but Los Angeles had made two hits off Nelson, while Oakland had scored but one off Moore, a twirler from Covina, recently discovered by Dillon. 410 Indian Wrestler At the County Fair

John Middleski of Los Angeles Is Veritable Giant.

John Middleski, a full blooded Indian, weight 410 pounds, height 6 feet 11 inches, who hails from Los Angeles and lays claim to the heavyweight wrestling title of the United States, blew into town from the southland yesterday. He was accompanied by his manager, D. Phillips. Middleski will be taken to the county fair grounds today and placed on exhibition this afternoon and evening in the fight pavilion along the Paseo.

This evening at 8 o'clock he will clash with Tony Munkers, weight 158, in the fight pavilion. The pair will give an exhibition of wrestling that should prove interesting as well as exciting.

In the regular daily fight and wrestling card yesterday, Fritz Frisch of Fresno outpointed and easily outgamed Freddie Moran of Pittsburg. Both are lightweights. Tony Munkers won another bout from Freddie Beal of Boston. Munkers took two out of three falls after a hard struggle.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Oct. 20.—In two straight falls, Seybscko, champion wrestler of Europe, won a match from Karl Alberg, the French champion, here tonight. It was announced that he thereby earned the right to meet Frank Gotch, champion of the world.

Seybscko won the first fall with a head lock in 11 minutes and the second with a bar lock and crotch hold in five minutes and ten seconds. Both bouts were fast and rough, the winner clearly outpointing his opponent.

TRACEY AND FUNK PLAY WITH VISALIA

Several Changes in Line-Up of Pirates; Smith May Work in Overall's Shoes.

VISALIA, Oct. 20.—It was announced today by Captain Maire of the Pirates that Tracey, the elongated first sacker for the Fresno State League team, and Funk, third baseman, have been secured to play those positions for Visalia in the Sunday series against the Bakersfield Drillers. Feeney will be transferred from third to second, which was formerly his regular position, and Bath will go from first to right field. Swanton has gone to San Francisco to remain and Hayes will take his place in left garden, Garibaldi staying in center.

Maire is waiting to hear something definite from Overall. In case the big Cub pitcher does not arrive, Artie Smith will work in one of the games.

Captain McDonough of the Tigers stated yesterday that no game is scheduled for the coming Sunday and the members will be free to play wherever they choose. On the following Saturday and Sunday McDonough will take his men to Bakersfield for two games with the Drillers. The proposed game with the Madera Coyotes is off, because of Preciado's failure to guarantee the State Leaguers a stipulated amount that would at least pay expenses. Oscar Jones and Walt Kuhn will likely be in the points for the Lemoore Cubs in the scheduled game with the Hanford team. Last Sunday Jones and Kuhn played with the Cubs. Oscar struck out sixteen men and Kuhn scored both runs made by the winners, the final score being 2 to 1. Kuhnie purloined six bases, which is a record even for the bushes.

EASTERN QUOTATIONS

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—Evaporated apples firm; fancy 10@11c; choice 9@10c; prime 8½@¾c; common to fair 6½@8½c.

Prunes scarce in the local market, but demand not now urgent. California 2½@7c; Oregon 6@9c.

Apricots firm: choice 11@12c; extra choice 11½@¾c; fancy 12@14c.

Peaches quiet but firm: choice 5½@5¾, extra choice 5¾@6c; fancy 6½@¾c.

Raisins somewhat higher on the coast supposedly as the result of a movement on the part of the big packers to secure control of this season's crop. Local spot market unchanged. Loose Muscatel 3¾@4½c; choice fancy seeded 4½@6½c; seedless 3¾@5½c; London layers $1.20@$1.25.

CHICAGO.—Wheat was active and strong today, the market closing firm, December ⅝@¾c higher.

A weak opening was followed by a reaction which was accelerated by reports of a renewal of the strong milling demand in the northwest which yesterday apparently had reached its height. An advance in cash wheat in the northwest helped to counteract the effect of the falling off in the cash wheat figures in the southwest. Enormous shipments of flour from the northwest also strengthened the market.

December spread over a range of 1¼c. Foreign cables were bearish, new crops of Russian and Argentine wheat being freely offered abroad.

Rain over a great area of the corn belt was bullishly influential in the corn market. There were closing gains of from ⅝c in October to 1¼@1½c in corn.

In the oats market the range was from ⅛, marked up against the July option, to ⅜c for December.

Active trading succeeded recent dullness in provisions and prices advanced 10c to 22½c. Shorts covered nearby futures, chiefly lard, and an investment demand for January products was in evidence.

PORTLAND.—Wheat: Track prices: Club 91c; bluestem $1.00@$1.02, red Russian 89c; Turkey red 90c; forty-fold 92c; Fife 90c.

LIVERPOOL.—Close: Wheat, December 7s 8⅛d; March 7s 7⅝d; May 7s 6⅝d. Weather showery.

ST. LOUIS.—Wool firm; medium grades combing and clothing 24@30c; light fine 24@27½c; heavy fine 14@20c; tub washed 26@35c.

NEW YORK.—Sugar: Raw steady; fair refining $3.80; centrifugal 96 test $4.30; molasses sugar $3.55; refined steady.

THE NEW YORK STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—The dull and hesitating tone of the speculative interest in stocks was unrelieved today. Prices did not move long in any one direction and the action was confused by contrary movements.

The more prominent issues in which the greatest part of the market dealings have been concentrated for a long time were heavy in tone. At the same time special stocks of a less conspicuous class and including some low priced, non-dividend payers, were pushed upwards. The immediate condition of the local money market was not such as to force liquidation, as the banks were not actually calling loans. In fact, supplies of loanable funds were somewhat liberal.

It was argued these funds were supplied by former large holders of stocks, who had been selling out at a profitable level of prices recently prevailing and were lending the money on account of the prevailing attractive interest rates.

The sustained strength of the foreign exchange markets work continued today the private discount rate established last week and it was taken for granted that tomorrow would see a further rise in the Bank of England official discount rate, probably half per cent and possibly by another full one per cent.

In this country the exchange at Chicago moved against New York again and a resumption of interior demands for currency was looked for. The publication of the figures of the country's foreign trade for September showed a further large increase in value of imports which served to reduce the trade balance again in favor of this country and thus to help to explain the strength in the foreign exchange market and the lack of an expected supply of exchange to provide for remittance in payment of maturing loans abroad.

A report of a contemplated issue of a new Chicago & Northwestern stocks was greeted with a sharp decline in that stock. Bonds of the International Pump company were offered both here and in foreign markets. The placing of new American issues abroad suggested another phase to the question of securing to Wall Street capital in a way that might operate as a substitution or funding of temporary loans [illegible] the immediate obligation to pay [illegible].

Bonds were easy. Total sales, par value, $3,540,000.

United States [illegible] declined [illegible] per cent on call.

TREASURY BALANCE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—The condition of the treasury at the beginning of business today was as follows:

Trust funds: Gold coin $877,[illegible]; silver dollars $487,[illegible]; silver dollars of 1890 $[illegible]; silver certificates outstanding $487,[illegible].

General fund: Standard silver dollars in general fund $2,[illegible]; current liabilities $[illegible]; working balance in treasury offices $25,729,672; in banks to credit of treasurer of the United States $[illegible]; subsidiary silver coin $[illegible]; minor coin $[illegible]; total balance in general fund $[illegible].

WILL ADVERTISE FRESNO COUNTY ALL OVER COAST

Proposition of Peck Judah Company Is Favored By Chamber of Commerce; Six-Month Contract Is Accepted

Favorable action was taken by the Chamber of Commerce last night on the proposition of W. N. Harris to advertise Fresno county in every city of any prominence on this coast, and especially in Los Angeles. The proposition was made by Harris on behalf of the Peck-Judah Company, and that concern will receive $50 per month for its work. A motion was passed by the Chamber empowering President Hobbs and Secretary Robertson to make the necessary contract. Under the terms of the agreement Harris is to personally deliver a lecture on Fresno county every day at the Los Angeles headquarters of the company and to distribute literature through its agency all over this section of the country. The Peck-Judah company has its main agencies in the cities of Los Angeles, San Francisco, Portland and Seattle. In addition to this it has now under consideration the establishing of headquarters at Chicago for the benefit of those intending to come to California to make their future homes.

Harris was present at the meeting last night and stated that arrangements are also under way to install suitable cases in all the second and third-class hotels of the larger cities of the Coast for the purpose of disseminating literature to the prospective settlers of small means who do not register at the first-class stopping places.

The contract when made will be for six months, starting on the first of November, and will thus run through all the winter months, the time when most of the Eastern tourists are on the Coast. In accordance with its announced intention of entering into the contract, the Chamber of Commerce last night instructed Secretary Robertson and the advertising committee to begin at once the preparation of a suitable folder for general distribution. The issue of folders will consist of 25,000 copies and the information regarding Fresno county contained therein will be in condensed form. The present plan is to have the folder consist of about eight small pages with suitable illustrations. The chamber at present has an excellent descriptive booklet that would answer the purpose very well, excepting for the fact that the cost of printing amounts to about five cents per copy, which is deemed entirely too expensive.

During the discussion leading up to the acceptance of the proposition, a slight hitch occurred over the matter as to how the local real estate men having lands for sale are to be treated by the Peck-Judah company. Harris stated that while his company would positively not accept any commissions from the realty dealers for directing prospective purchasers to private firms, he considered it his duty to direct customers to any real estate men when he knew that the latter had just the sort of property that was being sought. John Short and others of the chamber at first did not think favorably of this plan. "It was explained by them that in this manner some of the real estate men might be given a larger share of the business with the result that the other firms would then charge discrimination. Harris urged that he would use his best judgment in this matter in order to prevent any such charges being made. The discussion waxed warm for a time, but Harris was finally told that he could go ahead and do his work as he thought best and that should any complaint be made he would be promptly communicated with.

MAY INSTALL EXHIBIT.

The matter of installing a Fresno county exhibit at the coming United States Land and Irrigation Exposition at the Collseum in Chicago was deferred until tonight, when it will be taken up by the raisin committee which will meet for the first time in many months. Last night F. J. Robinson and D. M. Foltz, representing the Chicago Tribune, the newspaper that is promoting the exposition, appeared before the Chamber and presented the proposition in formal shape.

Fresno county was asked to take 250 square feet for its exhibit at the big show, to be paid at the rate of $1 per foot. President Hobbs declared himself as opposed to the proposition because he did not think 250 square feet as sufficiently large for this county to make a good showing. Others of the Chamber of Commerce also opposed the matter for the same reason, and in addition to that it was asserted that in view of the fact that the fair begins on the 20th of November, hardly enough time remained to gather a suitable exhibit and to transport it.

Robinson and Foltz both declared that Fresno could make the best sort of a showing in 250 square feet of space, when it is considered that the exhibit of the entire state of California is to be placed all together. This was regarded as a matter of detail and was passed up to the raisin committee.

TO TRICK RAILROADS.

H. B. Olufs appeared before the board with a proposition calculated to trick the railroads and force them to give terminal rates to Fresno. Olufs accepted a suggestion to submit his proposal in writing to the general committee now having that particular matter under consideration, not, however, before he had laid his plan before the chamber.

Olufs proposes to build one of the most unique roads in existence from Fresno across the west side to the coast, the other terminal being at Moss Landing, Monterey county.

This road as proposed is to consist of two strips of cement, paralleling each other along the entire route and four feet and eight inches apart. The cement is to be nine inches in depth and twelve inches wide. It is then the plan of Olufs to convey freight to and from the coast by means of solid tire automobiles such as are now used by the large establishments in New York and other Eastern cities to transfer heavy freight. With such a road in operation it is the idea of Olufs that the railroads would promptly be brought to time.

To defray the expense of building the line, Olufs suggests that the county issue 40-year 5 per cent bonds in the amount of $500,000. He states that the line could be run through the Panoche Pass and that San Benito county, which must be traversed before the coast is reached, would willingly stand its share of the expense. It is estimated that the two cement tracks if twelve inches in width could be laid for $2000 a mile.

KERN EXPRESSES THANKS.

The following self-explanatory letters have been received and were read last night:

Bakersfield, Cal., Oct. 16, 1909.
Mr. William Robertson,
Secretary Chamber of Commerce,
Fresno, Cal.

My Dear Mr. Robertson:—

I have been requested by the Board of Trade to convey to your honorable body their cordial thanks for the kindly and courteous treatment accorded the presidential reception committee during their brief stay with you, composed of H. A. Jastro, Congressman S. C. Smith and A. Weill.

With kindest regards, we are
Yours very truly,
KERN COUNTY BOARD OF TRADE,
A. W. M'RAE,
Secretary.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 13, 1909.
Mr. William Robertson, Secretary,
Fresno County Chamber of Commerce
Fresno, Cal.

My Dear Sir:—

Replying to your favor of October 4 in which you request that a number of bulletins on the drainage of irrigated lands in the San Joaquin valley be sent to your chamber for distribution in that locality, a considerable number of these publications have been forwarded to the Berkeley office and I shall request Mr. Loeding to keep you supplied.

Sincerely yours,
SAMUEL FORTIER,
Chief of Irrigation Investigations.

FUNERAL OF MRS. RAMACHER.

Mrs. Mary A. Ramacher, wife of H. Ramacher, of Kutner Colony, who died October 14th, was buried in Mountain View on the 17th. Rev. Edward Bundy of San Jose conducted the service. Mrs. Ramacher was aged 54 years, 11 months and 20 days. Surviving are the husband and eight children—Leroy, Leonard, Henry and Bismarck, Mrs. Verny Mickel, Mrs. Anna Campbell, Misses Mary and Henrietta Ramacher; also two brothers and two sisters—Frederick Palmer of Burbank, Cal., and George Palmer of Linton, Ind.; Mrs. Catherine Palmer of Medalia, Ore., and Mrs. Pauline Verneer of Louisville, Ohio.

NEW DEPARTURE.

After two months of remarkable sales, the Patterson Block Pharmacy, the enterprising druggists, say that their plan of selling at half price the regular 50-cent size of Dr. Howard's specific for the cure of constipation and dyspepsia, and guaranteeing to refund the money if it does not cure, has been the greatest success they have ever known.

They sold hundreds of bottles of the specific; and as yet have not had one returned, although they stand ready at any time to refund the money should any customer be dissatisfied.

Anyone suffering with dyspepsia, constipation, liver troubles, headaches, dizziness, coated tongue, or the general tired feeling, caused by inactive liver and bowels or disordered digestion, should take advantage of the Patterson Block Pharmacy's new departure and buy a bottle of Dr. Howard's specific at half price, with their personal guarantee to refund the money if it does not cure.

Ball Wall Paper Company

GROWERS' CONTRACTS ARE NOW READY TO BE SIGNED

President Giffen of Million Dollar Company Will Preside At Big Meeting To Be Held Today By Hanford Vineyardists

President Wylie M. Giffen of the proposed million dollar corporation yesterday received the printed contracts adopted at the mass meeting recently. This morning the actual signing up of raisin crops by the growers will be started at the temporary offices established by the company at 946 I street, opposite the Hughes hotel. At least one of the directors of the company will be in constant attendance to wait upon the growers as they call.

The officers of the company are very confident that within a short time they will secure the 65 per cent of the acreage desired, and the matter of incorporation will then be taken up.

Today at 10 o'clock the meeting of the Kings county raisin growers will be called to order at Hanford by President Giffen and it is possible that several other of the directors will be in attendance. This meeting was originally intended for today, but was delayed owing to the fact that it was thought advisable to have another day in which the growers could be notified, and a larger attendance made possible. The contract as revised by the committee and now submitted is as follows:

"This agreement, dated this....day of ..... 1909, by and between Central California Raisin Company, a corporation, the party of the first part (hereinafter referred to as the company), and ..... of ..... county, state of California, the party of the second part, (hereinafter referred to as the grower).

"Witnesseth, first, That said grower agrees to, and does hereby, sell and agree to deliver to said company all of the crops of raisins or other dried grapes now growing or which shall be grown during the years 1910, 1911, 1912, 1913 and 1914, inclusive, upon those certain lands and premises situate in the county of ....., state of California, and described as follows, to-wit:

"The company agrees upon its part to accept, receive, dispose of and pay for said raisins or grapes upon the terms and conditions hereinafter stated.

"Second: The said grower agrees to care for said entire crops and cure and convert the same into raisins or other merchantable dried grapes to the satisfaction of the company, and deliver the same to said company at some convenient packing house or warehouse selected by the grower and approved by the company, and if the grower shall fail on or before the first day of July, 1910, to select such packing house, the company may do so, and notify the grower thereof, and thereupon the grower shall deliver said raisins and grapes at such house. Provided always, however, that if the company shall acquire or provide its own packing house or warehouse, for the delivery and receipt of said raisins and grapes and shall notify the grower thereof, the same shall thereafter be delivered by the grower at such house. Provided also that if the company shall give timely notice to the grower so to do the grower will not cure his second crop of raisin grapes, and may deliver them in the manner agreed upon to the company, in boxes, to be disposed of to wineries or others, without drying or curing, and the net proceeds thereof shall be paid over by the company to the grower.

"Third: The company agrees upon its part to accept and receive all said raisins and grapes so delivered and to pay for and dispose of the same in the following manner: The company shall pay the grower one cent per pound for all good merchantable raisins so received and a like payment in proportion to market value at time of delivery for all other raisins and dried grapes received, cash upon delivery thereof, and thereafter the company agrees at its discretion to sell said raisins for cash in the sweat box, or upon term contracts payable on delivery, or in instalments, or itself to pack, handle and sell said raisins, using its best judgment and discretion in so doing. The company is authorized to take such steps and to do such acts as shall seem reasonably necessary in connection with the selling, packing, storing, or disposition of the raisins, and the insurance and safe-keeping thereof. And the company shall advance the money for the purposes aforesaid, and pay all of the expenses aforesaid, and pay for the purposes aforesaid, and shall be reimbursed therefor out of the proceeds of said raisins.

"Fourth: It is agreed that all raisins and grapes delivered shall be delivered free of mortgage or other liens, and if any are delivered subject to such mortgages or liens, all moneys to be advanced by the company shall be first advanced and applied to the satisfaction of such mortgages or liens, and the company shall not be obligated to receive any raisins or grapes subject to any such mortgage or lien unless the mortgagee or lien-holder shall in writing consent that the same shall be delivered, received and disposed of under this agreement, but the company may demand and receive the same at its option. All raisins and grapes received for packing and sale shall be graded when received in the sweat box, and shall thereafter be mingled and sold with other raisins of like grade received from others by the company, and after sale thereof, the company shall pay over to the grower for all of said raisins the average net price for which all of said raisins of such grades have been sold. The company may, whenever sufficient sales have been made to warrant the same, at any time during the season, make partial payment to all growers of an additional sum in accordance with qualities and grades delivered, and upon final settlement, shall pay over to the grower all net amounts due to him in accordance with qualities and grades delivered. If the condition of the market and sales made will permit, the company will make a preliminary accounting and second payment as above provided, on or before December 15th of each year, and final payment and distribution on or before August 1st of the following year. Provided that if at the time of such final distribution, on or about August 1st of the following year, there remains any raisins or grapes in the hands of the company undisposed of, it shall dispose of said residue as soon as the circumstances will permit. It is also the understanding and intention that payments herein agreed to be made after delivery shall be made and full accounts rendered and distribution had as soon as the circumstances will permit, and as soon as said raisins can be sold and disposed of by the exercise of due and reasonable diligence by the company. In making such settlements, the company shall deduct from the proceeds of sales all expenses properly incurred thereunder. Such payments and expenses shall include the expenses aforesaid, including the reasonable cost, but the reasonable cost only, of carrying on and conducting the business of said company, which shall be a part of the expense of the packing, handling and sale of said raisins. The directors of said company shall be compensated only in a reasonable amount for attending meetings of said company, but the executive committee of said board of directors shall receive a reasonable compensation to be fixed for their services.

"Fifth: The company may contract for the packing, handling and disposition of said raisins through other agencies or in such manner as in its judgment and discretion will produce the best results, provided that it shall not delegate the right to make sales or fix prices, but the price for all raisins and grapes and the terms and conditions of the sale thereof shall be attended to by the company, and shall be made by it or under its direction and authority only.

"Sixth: The company shall receive interest upon money advanced by it, if any, not called for under this agreement, but shall receive no interest either as to said one cent per pound agreed to be paid on delivery or for other charges, costs or expenses, but in lieu thereof and in consideration of carrying out and complying with the terms of this agreement, the company shall be entitled to compute interest upon the actual paid in cash value of its capital stock invested and used in carrying on said business at the rate of 6 per cent net thereon, per annum, and said interest shall be considered part of the expenses incurred under this agreement, and deducted pro rata from the sales made.

"Seventh: It is the understanding and intention that this is an executed agreement to apply to and bind both parties during the full term thereof, and that the title and right of possession of the crops herein agreed to be delivered has passed to the company, subject to a performance upon its part of the terms of this agreement, and that neither of the parties hereto could be properly or at all compensated in damages for a breach of the terms of this agreement, but each of the parties hereto shall be entitled to have the same specifically enforced and performed, and that the terms, covenants and conditions of this agreement are made for the benefit of and shall run with and bind the land above described.

"Eighth: If any dispute shall arise as to any matters provided for under this agreement, the same shall be forthwith settled by arbitration in the following manner: Immediately upon such disagreement, each of the parties hereto shall in writing notify the other of the selection of an arbiter, and the two arbiters so selected shall forthwith select a third arbiter, and said three arbiters so selected shall forthwith proceed, after signing an agreement so to do, stating the dispute, to arbitrate and settle the same, and said arbiters, or any two of them, can decide such dispute, and the decision and conclusion of said arbiters shall be forthwith rendered as soon as they have investigated and considered such matter, which shall be speedily done, and their decision shall be rendered in writing, and a copy thereof delivered to each of the parties thereto, and the same shall be absolutely conclusive and binding upon the parties to this agreement, and shall be considered a full and final arbitration and settlement of such differences, and the parties shall proceed in accordance therewith, and shall be bound thereby and such arbitration shall be exclusive, and neither of the parties thereto shall otherwise proceed by suit or action at law, or otherwise, than by arbitration until such arbitration is fully had and completed, and then only for the enforcement thereof.

"In witness whereof, the said company has caused these presents to be subscribed by its officers or agent thereto duly authorized, and the said grower has hereunto affixed his name, the day and name first above written."

ASSISTANT MANAGER FOR HUGHES HOTEL

D. B. Lockhard, who has been in charge of the Yosemite club in Stockton, has resigned that position and will on the 1st of November become assistant manager of the Hughes Hotel in this city. While engaged with the Yosemite club, Mr. Lockhard had offers to take the management of some of the best hotels in the interior, but decided to accept the Fresno offer. Mr. Lockhard is one of the best equipped hotel men in the West. The Western Hotel Reporter, a San Francisco publication, under date of the 9th, gave Mr. Lockhard's picture a place of prominence in the paper and said that he is one of the rising young hotel men and one of the most capable of the younger coterie of hotel managers in the state.

CITY OF MEXICO, Oct. 20.—Definite information was received in this city today from Monterey that Governor Bernardino Reyes of Nuevo Leon will abandon his gubernatorial chair within a very short time and that some time next week he will arrive in this city. General Jose Aller will succeed General Reyes.

SAYS TRADE MUST TAKE UP RAISINS

Shortage in Supply of Other Dried Fruits Will Aid Fresno Product, Is Belief.

The latest received issue of the New York Journal of Commerce gives a ray of hope for an improved raisin situation, in the following paragraph:

"There does not seem to be much demand for California raisins from jobbers in this section, but Coast advices state that orders presumably from other parts of the country for October-November shipment are better than they were, and with the advancing market and decided shortage in the supply of other dried fruits, it is believed that the distributing trade is bound to take a more pronounced interest in raisins before long. It is asserted that no packer can afford to sell any considerable quantity of this fruit at the prices now ruling. For Coast fancy seeded the general asking price for straight cars is 5c f. o. b., but there are sellers of carload lots containing 70 per cent fancy and 30 per cent choice at 4 3-4c for the former and 4 1-4c for the latter f. o. b. Coast. On a firm bid, however, it is possible that 4 3-4c f. o. b. would be accepted for straight cars of fancy. No imported dried fruits no fresh features were presented yesterday.
